BOARD OF SELECTMEN

BROOKLINE'S BOARD OF SELECTMEN — (standing l. to r.) Stephen B. Goldenberg, Ronald F. Rosenblith, Edward Novakoff, (seated) Eleanor Myerson and Chairman Robert M. Stein

At the Board's organizational meeting on April 14, 1981, following the annual town election, Robert M. Stein was elected Chairman. Other Board members are Eleanor Myerson, Edward Novakoff, Stephen B. Goldenberg and Ronald F. Rosenblith. Richard T. Leary was reappointed to serve as Executive Secretary of the Board for the ensuing year.

The success of local government in a democracy depends upon an informed citizenry. This Annual Report, covering the activities of the Town in 1981, is dedicated to the purpose of better acquainting the citizens of Brookline with their municipal government. It is intended, in addition, to deal with those specific programs and projects undertaken during the past year and to explain the organization and functions of your Town government, the responsibilities of its various departments, and the underlying principles and policies that direct or guide the administration of its affairs.

As is true every year, when the Board of Selectmen balanced its books at the end of 1981 it was conscious of progress in some areas, of disappointments in others, and of problems, opportunities, and challenges ahead. Our reputation as a well-governed municipality has been earned because our government has been responsible. In the Board's judgment, the Town government performed rather well in 1981 when one considers the stresses and strains that it was subjected to in implementing Proposition 2½. The magnitude of the first year property tax and excise tax revenue loss - $6,809,831 - demanded the adoption of extraordinary measures in order to preserve as much as possible of traditional town services. Mandated fixed cost items in the budget, e.g., retirement system, unemployment insurance, group health insurance, energy, and salary adjustments arrived at through collective bargaining, brought the total revenue loss to $11.2 million. This challenge was met by 1) reducing the town's total operating budget by $5,280,614; 2) increasing local receipts so as to generate $4,201,835 in additional revenue, and 3) realizing $1,736,462 in additional state aid. Some of the major reductions in town services and programs were the following:

- Library services reduced by 15%
- A fire company deactivated
- 2 school buildings closed
- Swimming pool hours reduced to 4 days per week
- 308 positions eliminated - 110 layoffs
- Transportation and Conservation Departments eliminated
- Moratorium on capital improvements program, purchase of capital equipment, and building repairs

It was a difficult and distressing job but one that the town approached and carried through in an orderly manner, unlike other communities where chaos prevailed. A cooperative effort by the Selectmen, Advisory Committee, Department Heads and members of Boards and Commissions, and finally, the Town Meeting, was largely responsible for the businesslike, albeit unpleasant, process. As the Board developed its FY83 Fiscal Program at year's end, it was clear that the worst was behind us but that there was little prospect for any significant service restorations in 1982.

Private Development Remains Strong

Despite the negative influence of high interest rates, private development in Brookline in 1981 added significantly to the town's tax base. According to Building Commissioner Royce E. Beatty, at the end of 1981 there were projects planned or underway in the town that are valued at $30 million. These include condominium projects at 1265 Beacon Street - $5.5 million; 41 Centre Street - $2.5 million, and the Corey Hill Garage - $2 million. In addition, there has been major new investment along Commonwealth Avenue which was designated a CARD district in August. This approval of a CARD plan (Commercial Area Revitalization District) by the State qualifies property owners in the area for tax-exempt revenue bond financing. Specifically, the Atamian Ford property has been converted to a new research and light assembly facility for Elscint at a cost of $2.8 million; a $1.5 million conversion has taken place at the Porsche-Audi property which is the new headquarters for Interpretative Data Systems, Inc.; and a garage on Dummer Street has been converted to a television production studio (Viz-wiz) at a cost of $1 million. Similar CARD designations at Coolidge Corner and Washington Square should facilitate approximately $15 million in new construction or conversions in the near future.

Condominiums now account for a substantial portion of the town's tax revenue as the following table indicates:

FY-79 Condominiums	691
Valuation	$14,650,900
Tax Dollars	$ 1,465,000
	(3.4% of Tax Revenue)
FY-80 Condominiums	1194
Valuation	$22,453,600
Tax Dollars	$ 2,200,452
	(5.2% of Tax Revenue)

FY-81 Condominiums	2076
Valuation	$38,308,700
Tax Dollars	$ 3,754,252
	(8.6% of Tax Revenue)

FY-82 Condominiums	2900
(Est.) Valuation	$180,000,000
Tax Dollars	$ 4,500,000
	(11% of Tax Revenue)

Parenthetically, these developments also add a significant amount to the permit fees collected by the Building Department. Permit revenue during 1981 was $253,370, a substantial increase over the 1980 figure of $139,768.

The Board of Selectmen and Fire Chief James P. Fallon commended 36 firefighters who assisted in battling the fire that devastated Lynn on December 5.

Norfolk County Advisory Board

Of the many pieces of legislation that were enacted into law in 1981, one of the most significant was Chapter 351, Section 28B, which conferred control over county budgets to County Advisory Boards. Brookline was actively involved in the Norfolk County Advisory Board's first budget process under the new system as Chairman Robert M. Stein represented the town's general interests on the Board and Stephen E. Cirillo, Administrative Assistant to the Executive Secretary, was appointed chairman of the budget committee. It is gratifying to report that the Advisory Board's efforts resulted in the adoption of the leanest county budget in the last several years. The budget was reduced by 3% and revenues were increased substantially, the combination leading to a 19.8% reduction in the overall county assessment. This represents a reduction of $120,000 in Brookline's assessment.

Although the county budget was reduced, the Advisory Board's approved budget actually strengthened certain county operations such as the jail, building maintenance department, and the agricultural school. The Board also filed legislation, which, if enacted, will establish enterprise funds for the county hospital and golf course. The two activities would then be operated on a self-supporting basis, rather than from assessments levied on the twenty-eight communities in the county.

Times Mirror Awarded Cable TV License

The process of choosing an applicant to build and operate a cable television system in the town was an arduous one for the applicants, the Board of Selectmen, and its appointed Cable TV Study Committee. Applications were received on March 16 from Times Mirror Cable Television, Rollins CableVision of Massachusetts, Inc., and Bay State CableVision, following which the Study Committee held lengthy public hearings with members of the Board of Selectmen in attendance. The committee made a detailed analysis of the three applicants' formal amended proposals and the public hearing testimony, an analysis which was derived from the selection criteria set out in the Request for Amended Proposals. The Committee then presented its recommendations to the Board of Selectmen in a three volume report.

The Selectmen held a public hearing on August 11 to receive comments from the three applicants on the Completed Findings of the Cable Television Study Committee. The Board's consideration also included a comparison of the three applicants based on the following criteria: subscriber costs; programming; local origination and access; system design; financial capability; conformity with the Request for Amended Proposals; technical capability; proposed headend site, and character. At its meeting on August 25, the Board voted to grant a provisional license to Times Mirror Cable Television to construct and operate a cable television system in the town. The terms of the provisional license are currently being negotiated by Town Counsel's office and counsel for Times Mirror and it is expected that the license will be issued shortly.

The Selectmen wish to express their gratitude for the excellent work of the members of the Cable Television Study Committee who worked for nearly two years studying the state of the art and the industry and the town's particular needs and uses for cable television.

Energy Management System

The 1980 Annual Town Meeting authorized a bond issue in the amount of $775,000 to implement a comprehensive energy conservation program in seven town buildings, including the installation of a computerized energy management system to control heat and ventilation. On recommendation of the Energy Conservation Study Committee, the Selectmen awarded a contract for the system to Andover Controls, Inc. in the amount of $314,094. The system's central control office is located in the Town Hall and installation work is in progress at the Main Library, Police Station, the High School complex, Pierce School and Runkle School. We anticipate substantial energy cost savings when the system becomes operational as it will monitor building conditions, heat, air conditioning, and electricity consumption, so as to optimize the use of boilers, pumps and ventilation units as outside weather conditions dictate or allow.

Library Celebrates 125th Anniversary

The Trustees of the Public Library recently marked the occasion of the Library's 125th anniversary with a varied program at the Main Library. Following music by the "Sails String Quartet" sponsored by the Brookline Library Music Association, a puppet show in the Children's Room, a tour of the library, and poetry readings, Chairman of the Trustees Martha G. Edmondson welcomed the many town residents in attendance and opened the formal program. Chairman Robert M. Stein brought the greetings of the Town and those of the Boston Public Library were conveyed by its Director, Philip J. McNiff. Remarks entitled "A Very Special Place" were presented by Thomas J. Cottle, a Brookline resident and lecturer at Harvard Medical School who appears regularly on WGBH Channel 2.

The Brookline Public Library has an illustrious history. It was the passage of enabling legislation in 1851, adopted by Brookline, which allowed towns to tax themselves to support a free public library. It seems hard to believe in these inflationary times but it is a fact that the town appropriated $1,167 in 1857 to be used for such a service. In 1857 the library opened in the lower end of the old wooden Town Hall building with 1,000 books, and in the words of the Trustees "no books were purchased that were not suited to the family circle." The Town Librarian's salary in 1858 was $75 per year; in 1860 this magnificent stipend was increased to $125, which was granted along with a vote of thanks from the Trustees!

In 1869 the library moved into a building of its own. The present Main Library, the second building erected on the same site, was constructed in 1910 and enlarged and remodeled in the years 1971-1974. Two branch libraries that started in store fronts are in magnificent new buildings: the present Coolidge Corner Library opened in 1957 and was remodeled and added to in 1970; the Putterham Library opened in its present building in 1961.

As the town has grown over the years, the Library has grown and prospered. From that original collection of 1,000 books, the Library now has almost 370,000 volumes. Various services have been added over the years and library service has become a vital element in the cultural and intellectual life of the community.

In recognition of the Library's 125th Anniversary, the Selectmen adopted the following proclamation:

WHEREAS, March 20, 1982 is the 125th anniversary of the founding of the Public Library of Brookline, the first library in Massachusetts established entirely by municipal action, and

WHEREAS, Brookline thus became a pioneer in nurturing the growth of an institution of learning singularly American, and

WHEREAS, from a room in the Town Hall of Brookline with a library consisting of a few hundred books, successive generations of Trustees and librarians have built a library whose excellence is recognized far beyond the borders of the Commonwealth, and

WHEREAS, free access to the rich resources of the library has enlarged the educational horizons of the residents of the town of all ages and the library has occupied an increasingly important role in the life of the community.

NOW, THEREFORE, firm in the conviction that a well informed citizenry is the strongest bulwark of democracy, we, the Board of Selectmen of Brookline, do hereby PROCLAIM THE PERIOD OF MARCH 30, 1982 THROUGH DECEMBER 31, 1982 as LIBRARY MONTHS IN THE TOWN OF BROOKLINE and urge all our citizens to seek ways to insure the continuation of this irreplaceable institution.

"FAIRSTED" — National Historic Site on Warren Street.

Brookline Hosts Olmsted Parks Conference

The Town and many Brookline organizations joined together in April to host the 2nd National Conference of the Association for Olmsted Parks. The goal of the conference was to educate and inform, to share ideas, assess current problems, and channel concern for the Olmsted Parks into constructive programs to meet the needs in our own communities. It focused on Frederick Law Olmsted and his work from many different points of view, and consisted of a series of seminars and workshops at Boston University, a tour of the Olmsted Park system "The Emerald Necklace," and presentations on "The Leverett Pond Restoration Project" and "Frederick Law Olmsted and His Brookline Neighbors." The conference concluded with dedication ceremonies at "Fairsted", the Frederick Law Olmsted National Historic Site which will be an invaluable resource for the American public.

The Olmsted Conference disclosed time and again the enormous strides which the town has made in recognizing the importance of both the natural and man-made environment. The Parkway Hospital, the site of a conference reception and luncheon, is a fine example of private enterprise and a public organization — the Friends of Leverett Pond — combining forces to take a "jewel" in Olmsted's Emerald Necklace and give it new lustre. The proposed condominium development will actually enhance the attractiveness of the site by restoring aspects of the original Olmsted landscape design which over the years has been sacrificed.

The Selectmen would like to commend Betsy Shure Gross, the Conference Coordinator, and the several Brookline organizations and officials for planning and carrying out this conference which was attended by approximately 300 visitors from 18 different States and Canada. The public and private cooperation evidenced throughout the conference will preserve and protect a great natural heritage for generations to come.

New Town Officials

In August William F. Sullivan was appointed Town Clerk to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of John F. Kendrick. Mr. Sullivan had served as Assistant Town Clerk since his appointment in March, 1976. He also served on the Advisory Committee from 1960 - 1972; as a Town Meeting Member from 1971 - 1976; and as Secretary to the Advisory Committee, an appointive position which he still holds. Since assuming the office of Town Clerk, Mr. Sullivan has streamlined the annual census operation and has effected several internal changes which have increased the efficiency of the Clerk's office and enhanced the services rendered to town residents.

Frances Halpern was appointed to fill the position of Assistant Town Clerk. Mrs. Halpern has served as a member of the Registrars of Voters since 1971 and brings to this officer her expertise in the field of voter registration.

The consolidation of the Park, Forestry and Cemetery Departments under the administration of the Department of Public Works was successfully implemented during 1981. After an extensive search, Paul R. Willis was named to the newly created position of Director of the Parks/Forestry/Cemetery Division of DPW on July 20, 1981. Having served as Conservation Director for the Town since 1977, Mr. Willis possesses a strong background in urban environmental issues.

His familiarity with landscape architecture and arboriculture, combined with his ability to work cooperatively with a variety of people and interests, has made him highly respected and most effective during his first year as Director.

Recognition of Robert C. Cochrane, Jr.

The Selectmen and Executive Secretary were pleased to attend and participate in the annual governmental reception of the Chamber of Commerce in June at which former Selectman Robert C. Cochrane, Jr. was honored. Always a festive event, the reception affords business leaders in Brookline an opportunity to thank civic leaders for significant contributions to the Town of Brookline. Cochrane was the sixth Brookline notable to be honored, having been preceded by the late Arthur Fiedler, former Governor Michael S. Dukakis, former Senator Edward W. Brooke, the late G. Russell Phinney, publisher of the Chronicle Citizen, and Executive Secretary Richard T. Leary.

As noted at the reception, Mr. Cochrane's record consists of almost four decades of service to the Town — thirty-eight years as a Town Meeting Member; eleven years as a member of the Advisory Committee, the last five of which he served as Chairman; and nine years as a member of the Board of Selectmen, serving as Chairman from 1974-1978. The quality of his leadership, his integrity and sense of purpose have been an inspiration to all Town officials who have had the privilege of working with him.

Robert C. Cochrane, Jr.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

The Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations (ACIR) was created by the Congress in 1959 to monitor the operation of the American federal system and to recommend improvements. In addition to dealing with the all important functional and structural relationships among the various governments, the Commission has also extensively studied critical stresses currently being placed on traditional government taxing practices. As part of this continuing research on fiscal federalism, ACIR believes it is essential to determine public attitudes on major governmental fiscal issues. Three major findings emerged from an analysis of the latest ACIR public opinion poll on taxes and performance conducted during 1981:

- More people (36%) selected the federal income tax as the nation's worst tax, though the local property tax is a close second (selected by 33% of the respondents).
- Local governments are thought to provide the most service for the taxpayer's dollar by 33% of those surveyed, with the federal government selected by 30%.
- Charges for specific services are far and away the preferred way for local governments to raise additional revenue if that should be necessary.

The federal income tax was chosen by more people as the worst tax — that is, least fair — of the nation's major taxes for the third year in a row. State income and sales taxes continue to register far lower levels of taxpayer discontent, as consistently has been the case. In the 1981 survey, only 14% chose the state sales tax as the worst tax and only 9% selected the state income tax as the least fair.

While more people chose the federal income tax as the worst tax — reflecting at least in part the continuing "bracket creep" caused by inflation and other "income tax inequities" that were highlighted during the debate of the 1981 tax cut — this proportion has remained virtually constant for the past three years. The greatest change in this year's results is the sharp increase in the proportion of respondents selecting the local property tax as the nation's worst tax source. The 8 percentage point increase from last year represents not only a reversal from the downward movement of the previous two years, but the 1981 level also stands as the second highest "unfavorable" reading for the property tax — equal to the level of discontent recorded in May, 1977 and exceeded only by the findings of the initial ACIR survey taken in March 1972.

For the second time in the past three years, and only the second time in the 10 years that ACIR has asked the question, more people (33%) selected local governments as providing the most for the taxpayer's money. The 1981 results placed the federal government a close second — chosen by 30% of the respondents — and the state sector third, preferred by 25% of the respondents.

Not only did the pattern of the preference among government levels differ this year, but the level of support registered for each sector is at or near to its extreme reading. That is, the 33% selecting local government as providing the most for the respondent's tax dollar equals the peak achieved by this governmental sector in the May, 1979 survey — the only other year that local government placed first. By way of contrast, the 30% selecting the federal government as providing the most is the second lowest percentage ever, exceeding only the 29% level registered both in May, 1979 and April, 1974. State governments, which continue to place third, were nonetheless chosen by 25% of the respondents as providing the most — and this represents the highest level scored in the 10 years ACIR has asked this question. Thus, 1981 public attitudes reveal both state and local governments at their peak readings while the federal sector is near to its lowest level regarding public attitudes for the governmental sector providing the most for the tax dollar.

The sharpest change to emerge in this year's survey was the 7 percentage point increase in those selecting the local government sector as most efficient. If local government must raise more revenue, charges for specific services are far and away the first choice as "the best way to do it," being selected by a margin of better than 2.5 - to -1 over the next most frequently chosen finance instrument, local sales taxes. Only 7% of the respondents, nationwide, felt that a local income tax was the best way to raise needed revenues, and only 5% — lowest for the four tax sources — selected the mainstay of local government finance, the property tax.

The public response indicates no hard and fast attitudes toward sorting out the functional responsibilities as between the federal and state-local sectors. The poll does not show strong public support for complete federal withdrawal from any specific program; no overriding majority of respondents selected any functional category for complete federal withdrawal. To state the same result positively, more than two out of every three respondents favored some continuation of federal support, either financial or administrative, for each function enumerated.

A Fiscal Program for FY83

The Selectmen and Executive Secretary began planning for the second year under Proposition 2½ early last fall. After considering the Executive Secretary's proposed FY83 Fiscal Program and the budget guidelines contained therein, as well as three alternative Revenue-Expenditure Forecasts, the Selectmen adopted the following program on November 3, 1981:

"This Fiscal Program reflects our tentative determination, subject to conferences with the School Committee to arrive at an equitable and appropriate sharing of the anticipated deficit, to effect an overall municipal and school budget reduction of approximately $1.5 million. As it would not be reasonable or practical to achieve this reduction by applying an arbitrary across-the-board percentage factor, we are proposing an approach which will assure attainment of our fiscal goal while providing maximum flexibility during the entire budget review process. We will keep our options open at all stages in order to take advantage of any legislative relief that might be forthcoming.

1. Programs

The Executive Secretary and the Selectmen will review all sub-programs and elements in great detail in an effort to both further reduce some town services and realize more productivity from present resources. Those sub-programs and elements which are quite general will be carefully scrutinized to see if there are subsidiary activities or services that can be eliminated or reduced. As in the past, all sub-programs and elements will be ranked in order of priority and evaluated with a view to the possible elimination of several, depending on the magnitude of the dollar cut that will have to be made. A list of program budget areas to be accorded special attention and totalling about $2 million, over and above the $1.5 million referred to previously, will be developed during the Executive Secretary's budget conferences with department heads.

2. Priorities

In formulating the list of program budget areas where sufficient savings can be realized to enable us to reach our budget goal, we will be guided by a schedule of priorities that will take into account last year's budget reductions and reflect a further breakdown of the program budget designations, Education in particular. This schedule will be considered and approved by the Selectmen prior to their budget reviews. Because of the substantial dollar and service reductions last year in the low priority categories, we will have to be more flexible in FY83 in identifying the positions and activities to be further impacted. This selective approach will result in many budgets being recommended for level funding. Last year's budget exercise, which required all department heads to indicate the effects of cuts at -15%, -25%, and 50%, will facilitate compilation of those activities which will comprise the recommended budget reduction list.

3. Personnel

In light of the anticipated deficit in FY 83, it will be necessary to re-emphasize the policy of reducing the permanent personnel complement through attrition. Permanent positions currently vacant which were not on the budget addback list approved at the August Town Meeting, or positions which become vacant during the budget review process, will not be filled except in cases of clearly demonstrable emergency. It is recognized that this policy may disrupt operations in some departments but it is a course that must be followed if we are to offset the projected FY 83 deficit and the FY 82 shortfall of $400,000. It will enable us to further reduce the overall personnel complement of the town by 20-30 positions with a concomitant savings of approximately $250,000.

4. Service By Contract

Special attention will be given those service areas where it might be in the town's best interest to perform under contract rather than by using town personnel. Early policy decisions in the areas identified and scheduled for bidding will be helpful in assuring an orderly transition. In the contractual services areas generally, we will intensify our efforts to reduce consumption of fuel oil, electricity, and gasoline. Our objective will be to make a significant reduction in the energy reserve fund appropriation (FY 82 - $541,000).

5. Closing and Consolidation of Buildings & Facilities

As part of our program review and our energy conservation project, we will be focusing on those town buildings and facilities which are heavy users of energy. This study will be carried out in close collaboration with the Advisory Committee which has made it a priority item this year. It may be difficult to justify closing a building or buildings in terms of energy savings alone, but use of buildings might be cut back as programs are reduced in scope or administrative reorganizations occur.

6. Administrative Reorganization

An important consideration in the joint use of buildings and office space will be the advisability of linking together either formally or informally those agencies now performing similar or related functions in separate locations. In this regard, the Committee on Organization and Structure, with the assistance of Mr. Cirillo, is moving forward with its study of the town's organization for Human Services. As part of that study, consideration will be given to what comparable services are available in the town through private sources.

We will also compile an inventory of all town buildings as well as private space now being rented, and indicate the fixed costs associated with both.

7. Group Insurance

A small staff committee will be formed (including representatives of the Selectmen's Office, Purchasing Department, Personnel Department and Health Department) to examine our present Group Health Insurance Program and determine as early as possible in the budget process whether changes can be made which would materially reduce our costs. This is one of the largest fixed charges in the operating budget and consumed a great deal of the Board's time late last summer. Hopefully, a close analysis of the program's administration, claims experience, etc., and a look at alternative methods of providing this benefit, will enable us to bring the cost under control. Our ability to stabilize appropriations for such fixed expenses will in large measure set the total amount that will have to be taken from operating budgets.

8. Revenue Projections & Use

In estimating additional revenue for FY 83, we are confident that local receipts will increase by at least $600,000. This includes $200,000 in parking fines, $100,000 in rent control registration fees, and $300,000 from all other areas where fees have not been raised to their maximum limits. With regard to assistance at the state level, we are hopeful that early action will be taken on legislation which will allow us, by means of a referendum, to increase our tax levy by an additional 2½ % or $1 million, and to include new development in our assessed valuations, thereby augmenting our tax base by $250,000. These three sources of additional revenue would be most helpful in minimizing the amount that would otherwise have to be realized through budget reductions.

If, in addition to the above, we should be fortunate enough to add $500,000 to our estimated free cash, benefit from the Cusack-Keverian local aid revision measure to the extent of $500,000, and be permitted, again by referendum, to exempt from the limitations of Proposition 2½ our prior years' debt and interest obligations - $2,730,000 - we would be in a very favorable position, and could recommend a budget that would provide at least the current levels of service, perhaps allow for some additional capital equipment, repairs, and improvements, and meet other commitments that will arise during the next six months.

9. Legislative Initiatives

Since final budget decisions for FY 83 will depend largely on actions taken by the Legislature, strong emphasis will be placed on securing passage of those measures which will enhance the town's fiscal position. The most important pending legislation is referred to in Section 8, and should be dealt with by the Great and General Court over the next 3-4 weeks. Looking ahead to the next legislative session which will begin in January, we will press for an equitable local aid distribution formula, and guarantees of a set amount of local aid each year by process rather than by annual appropriation. Communities have a right to know as they are developing their budgets what they can expect to receive in state aid. This important element in the town's fiscal projections should not be subject to drastic ups and downs as has been the case under the present system.

Other pieces of the legislation that will be supported vigorously are a bill which would allow cities and towns to increase their tax base by normal growth attributable to inflation; a bill to impose a 2½ % budget increase limitation on the MBTA, MDC and the County, rather than the present cap of 4%; and a bill which would allow cities and towns to enter into contracts for insurance or be self-insurers as a group rather than as separate entities.

10. Capital Improvements Program

It had been the town's practice before FY 82 to fund capital projects for which borrowing is not recommended at an average annual cost of $1.3 million. This part of the overall capital improvements program covers such projects as replacement of fire equipment; park and playground improvements; water, sewer, and drain improvements, and street rehabilitation. As a general proposition, we will continue in FY83 the moratorium we established last year on all new projects which would ordinarily be financed from tax revenue. Further, in order to maintain our favorable debt service position, we will look very critically at all bond issue requests and approve only those projects which cannot be postponed. At the time the C.I.P. is reviewed with the Planning Board, and if our financial situation has improved in the meantime, we may give special consideration to requests affecting public safety services e.g., fire apparatus and equipment."

I was pleased to report to the Board in January that we had been successful in achieving our goal of a $1.5 million reduction in projected expenditures for FY83. The reduction was made in the area of fixed costs, e.g. unemployment compensation, energy, debt service, and state and county assessments. In view of this $1.5 million reduction, my approach in reviewing budgets was to level fund all departmental budgets with a few exceptions. As our fiscal situation improved, I added to the budget $200,000 in capital equipment and repairs to public buildings, a modest step towards our usual program in these areas and one that is clearly essential.

In the process of reviewing budgets I developed two lists to assist the Selectmen in making sound fiscal policy decisions in the ensuing weeks. One was a list of budget items and programs to be accorded special attention if it becomes necessary to make additional cutbacks in town services. The second was a highly selective list of budget restorations which could be made if our fiscal situation should improve significantly in the months before Town Meeting.

Our FY83 Revenue/Expenditure Forecasts have been updated periodically and have reflected steady improvement in several of the elements, particularly local receipts, additional free cash, and energy costs. The following tables represent our projections as of March 30, 1982:

Our chief concern at the moment is the amount of local aid that we will receive from the state. Until Governor King released his proposed distribution formula recently, we had good reason to assume that we would realize at least an additional $500,000, the amount included in our forecast. Under the Governor's formula, however, we would receive approximately $290,000 under a provision that guarantees all communities at least 30% of their revenue losses in the first two years under Proposition 2½. Our revenue loss in FY82 was $6,809,831. We received about $1.5 million in additional state aid under the lottery formula which offset only 22% of our revenue loss.

The Selectmen are urging the enactment of S.1311, a bill which would assure cities and towns of 50% of their revenue loss in FY82 before any distribution is made for FY83. This would result in an additional $1.9 million for Brookline.

It is expected that the legislative determination of this year's local aid formula will be made in the next few weeks. Approval of a formula that will help to correct some of last year's inequities is essential if we are to adhere to our plan not to further reduce town services and programs in FY83.

Changes in Proposition 2½

Legislation enacted by the General Court (Chapter 782 of the Acts of 1981) and signed by the Governor in January makes significant changes in Proposition 2½. Major provisions of the new law are as follows:

- Cities and towns above the 2½ % limit that were required to reduce taxes by 15% can vote to lower the required reduction to 7½ % by majority vote and lower than 7½ % by a 2/3 vote.

- Cities and towns at or below the 2½ % limit that were allowed to increase taxes by 2½ % per year can vote to increase taxes by an additional 2½ % by majority vote and more than an additional 2½ % by a 2/3 vote.

- For cities and towns at or below the 2½ % limit, tax revenue resulting from growth in the tax base is not subject to the 2½ % tax levy increase limitation; communities may now expand levies in proportion to growth in the tax base brought about by new construction or substantial renovation which is being taxed for the first time — not simply from revaluation. Originally the levy could grow only by 2.5% per year regardless of any expansion in the tax base.

- Cities and towns can vote to exclude debt service costs from the Proposition 2½ limitation. A simple majority vote is required to exclude from the levy cap either pre-2½ debt and interest or new debt and interest. No exclusion was allowed initially.

- State and district assessments imposed on cities and towns are limited to 2½ % of the prior year's total rather than 4% of the prior year's assessment on each city and town.

School Committees retain line item autonomy within the total school appropriation as determined by the legislative body of a city or town. The original Proposition 2½ Act eliminated fiscal autonomy for School Committees but did not deal with specific budget items within the total school budget appropriations.

- The rental reduction allowed on state income tax forms is limited to $2,500 for tax years 1982 and beyond and any deduction applies only to residences in Massachusetts. Prior to the new Act, residential rent-payers received an income tax deduction equal to 50% of their rent with no maximum limit.

The original Proposition 2½ required an action of the state legislature to place an override question on the ballot. Chapter 782 permits a Board of Selectmen or City Council, by a 2/3 vote, to place a question of override on the local ballot. The original measure stipulated that override elections be held in November. Chapter 782 allows a Board of Selectmen or City Council to designate the time of the override referendum which may be held on the same date as municipal elections; a special election may be called on no less than four weeks prior notice.

Just when municipal officials and interested citizens began to get a grasp of the whole set of changes to 2½ adopted by the legislature, guidelines issued by the State Department of Revenue seemed to many to be the reverse of what they had understood. The confusion was widespread, at times even among those closely associated with the issue. In some communities, officials who had only weeks before placed the issue on the ballot, generally in some form of a debt exemption, found themselves in the awkward position of campaigning against their own proposal when they learned the vote could actually mean their town could spend less, not more, by exempting debt.

The exemption of past debt service has been particularly confusing and controversial. DOR's interpretation of the new amendments to 2½ makes the exemption much less helpful than initially expected. Municipalities at or below the 2½ limit, whose debt service is declining (as ours is at the moment) and which exempts past debt service, may well end up with less revenue than if they had not asked for the override. The reason for this is that the instructions for calculating the exemption of debt service require a community to deduct the amount of debt service costs from the overall levy before applying the 2½% increase to the remaining amount. This clearly acts to reduce the amount of allowable levy.

Finally and most importantly, Chapter 782 allows communities to expand their tax levies only in proportion 2½, once a community's levy was at 2½% of full and fair market value, the levy could grow by 2½% in succeeding years regardless of any expansion in the tax base brought about by economic growth. This change to Proposition 2½ makes it essential that the Board of Assessors maintain accurate up-to-date values.

Moody's Lowers Town's Credit Rating

One of the ironies of Proposition 2½ for Brookline, a community which voted to reject the measure by a margin of 60%-40%, was the action of Moody's Investors Service in temporarily suspending the town's Aaa bond rating and then lowering it to Aa. The town learned of Moody's suspension action in March when they suspended the ratings of 44 municipalities in Massachusetts after completing a case-by-case analysis and evaluation of the effects of Proposition 2½ on all rated communities ranging in investment grades from Aaa Brookline to Baa Boston. The communities represented approximately 52% of the total state population and 59% of the total local outstanding debt. The report issued by Moody's at the time of the rating suspension emphasized that the cities and towns affected were taxing beyond the law's limit of 2½ % of full and fair cash value, and all faced property tax levy reductions of a full 15% in fiscal 1982. Most would have to reduce the levy by a comparable amount in 1983, and several would be required to cut the levy still further in subsequent years in order to comply.

Naturally we were surprised and dismayed to learn of Moody's action in suspending the town's long-held Aaa bond rating, and to note that Brookline was the only Aaa community in the Commonwealth to have its rating suspended. The action was particularly disconcerting in that it followed a report in March, 1981 from Merrill Lynch which contained their firm's opinion that Brookline's general obligation debt "is among the most secure of local debt outstanding at this time." Also, in January, 1980, Moody's re-awarded the Aaa rating on Brookline's $4.1 million bond issue for school reconstruction and remodeling and water main cleaning and lining, stating, "Favorable debt factors, together with the town's long record of effective and professional management, and the continuing strong financial operations combine to afford Brookline its prime quality rating."

In July, 1981 the Executive Secretary, together with Town Treasurer Shirley Sidd and Comptroller Edward B. Kelly, met with representatives of Moody's in New York, made a comprehensive presentation of the steps being taken by the town to implement Proposition 2½, and urged restoration of the Aaa bond rating. We explained in detail how Brookline had taken an orderly, conservative approach to the 2½ problem to insure that by July 1, 1981 Brookline would be in compliance with the law. We reviewed the Selectmen's budget priorities and actions, projected increases in local receipts, the moratorium on capital projects, private development currently planned or underway in the town, and the status of our revaluation project, all of which were important elements in the town's FY82 Fiscal Program. We pointed out that unlike other cities in the Commonwealth, Brookline had not borrowed against uncertain future state aid or unrealistic revaluation figures.

At the time of our conference, Moody's rating board had already lowered the ratings of almost all of the communities whose ratings had been suspended in March, so while we were optimistic that Brookline would receive a high rating, we doubted that it would be Aaa as before. A few days after the meeting in New York, Moody's announced that our bond rating had been lowered to Aa and it issued the following opinion: "Although Brookline's general obligation bonds continue to offer ample security, the combination of Proposition 2½-imposed revenue restrictions and lack of significant growth is inconsistent with a prime quality rating. The revised rating reflects the town's comprehensive, thoughtful plans to reduce spending and broaden its revenue base, well-maintained finances and modest debt levels." Moody's also noted that "Brookline's sound financial operations have been apparent in maintenance of a substantial certified free cash account, which rose to 7% of revenue receipts at the end of fiscal 1980."

While we were disappointed with Moody's decision, we anticipate no change in bond interest rates and intend to seek a Aaa rating at the earliest opportunity.

Public Pensions: A Financial Timebomb

Despite a warning in 1976 that pension plans for public employees across the state are a financial timebomb, little has been done since to address the problem. Under the provisions of the Massachusetts Retirement System, annual pension payments are based substantially on projected benefits expected to be paid during the applicable year — essentially a pay-as-you-go system. Under generally accepted accounting principles, retirement costs would be recorded within a range of minimum and maximum acceptable amounts, determined by actuarial methods instead of on the basis of anticipated actual payments. The minimum annual provision for retirement costs under GAAP would be the total of normal costs, interest on unfunded past service costs and, under certain circumstances, a provision for vested benefits.

Massachusetts' problem began 44 years ago when it adopted a pay-as-you-go method to finance the benefits of its government workers. In 1976, 250,000 active and 70,000 retired state and local employees learned that the state's 102 retirement systems had fallen $7.6 billion in arrears in setting aside funds for pensions already earned by employees. The Massachusetts Retirement Law Commission, which revealed that sobering statistic, presented a difficult choice: Public officials could begin setting aside sums to cover pensions as employees earn them, plus additional amounts to eliminate the $7.6 billion deficit, or face the eventual likelihood that there would not be enough money to pay everyone's pension.

Although $108 million has been set aside by the legislature for state-funded pensions of teachers and state employees, there are increasing signs that other budgetary pressures will foreclose continuing this effort at the state level. Moreover, the legislature has refused to force the 96 county, city and town pension systems to begin setting aside funds for future pensions. Legislative leadership is important for two reasons. One is that $3.9 billion of the $7.6 billion of unfunded liability in Massachusetts comes from the legislatively financed state employees and teachers pension systems. Second because the legislature has more flexibility than municipalities in raising taxes, many local officials look to it for assistance.

In the six years since the Retirement Law Commission's Report, the legislature has taken two notable steps. It removed a prohibition against local systems setting aside money for pensions, and, as mentioned earlier, it appropriated $108 million to fund the two large systems. The first step has had little practical impact. Only 15 of the 96 local systems have been willing or able to set funds aside. Brookline is one of the 15, as in 1979 it created a special fund entitled "Retirement - Past Service Liability Fund" to be maintained in the general funds of the town, and appropriated $300,000 in FY80 for this purpose; an additional $300,000 was appropriated in FY81. While these appropriations were a modest first step towards meeting the town's unfunded liability of approximately $68 million, they reflected the town's commitment to address the pension liability problem. Because of the first year effects of Proposition 2½, in FY82 the town temporarily suspended a contribution toward this actuarial liability but plans to include the sum of $300,000 in the FY83 budget. Hopefully we will be able to increase the amount of this annual appropriation in future years.

1981 Annual Town Report

The Selectmen and I were pleased to receive the "Outstanding Achievement" award of the Massachusetts Municipal Association for Brookline's 1981 Town Report. The award was particularly welcome in light of the fiscal constraints which restricted all town expenditures last year, and necessitated a reduction of over 50% in the cost of printing the report. Brookline has been a regular recipient of the Massachusetts Municipal Association's Town Report Award, a recognition that is largely due to the ability and efforts of Deputy Executive Secretary Margaret F. Mahoney, who, in addition to her myriad responsibilities, compiles, edits and supervises the preparation of the report.

TOWN MODERATOR

As a result of the budget restrictions of Proposition 2½, 1981 was a very difficult year for most Massachusetts municipalities and Brookline was no exception. It was indeed a test of the viability of our Town Meeting form of government.

It is a tribute to the town's leadership, as well as the relationship between employees and Town Meeting members, that Brookline avoided much of the bad feeling and distrust that was prevalent in so many other cities and towns.

More disturbing than the potential loss of services brought about by the budget restrictions was the need to choose between what positions would be retained and who would be laid off. Decisions were complicated even more by the lack of certainty as to exactly how much would be available to appropriate from free cash, increased assessed valuations and from proposed amendments to 2½ being considered by the Great and General Court. A premature lay-off might cause some long term employees unnecessary hardship and yet an overappropriation initially would result in a subsequent need to reduce positions even further when the amount of any overexpenditure became known.

The Board of Selectmen and Advisory Committee, independently of each other, developed a series of priorities on which they reached agreement and recommended to the Town Meeting, in the form of an initial tentative list of positions to be dropped. Both groups held frequent meetings with all departments.

The Moderator held a separate meeting with all department heads to familiarize them with his planned procedures under which the Town Meeting would debate and make the choices. He met separately with the Selectmen and Advisory Committee.

As a result of those meetings, all parties agreed to the Moderator's plan that amendments to increase the budget in any department would have to include the source of such funds. In all probability, this would mean offering a corresponding cut in another budget for every position added back.

It is a credit to the work of the Selectmen and Advisory Committee, as well as the close working relationship between departments, that all the department heads agreed that unless additional funds became available, they would abide by the priority list presented by the Selectmen and Advisory Committee. While the loss of jobs was tragic, they felt they were apportioned between the departments as equally as could be hoped for, and under no circumstances, wished to offer amendments that would pit one department against another in Town Meeting debate.

The final decision was put off from the April Annual Town Meeting to an adjourned session in June. A tentative budget was appropriated, then further considered at a July Special Town Meeting, finalized at an August meeting, and reexamined again at a November meeting. While many, many positions were lost, careful planning made Brookline's transition much easier and proved the viability of our system in a very difficult time.

Justin L. Wyner

This year will complete my 12th year as Brookline's Town Moderator. As the following letter (sent to all Town Meeting Members) indicates, I have decided not to be a candidate for another term.

Dear Town Meeting Member:

In April of 1982, I will have completed four three year terms as Moderator of our Town Meeting, and after a great deal of thought, have decided not to be a candidate for another term.

I am not making this decision because other commitments or interests call to me, nor because of a waning interest in the job or the Town Meeting process, but on the contrary, because of my great affection for them.

I consider the Brookline Town Meeting to be a very unique and special kind of dynamic grass roots democracy, primarily because of the very special people that we have attracted to our constantly changing Town Meeting membership. In order to retain this specialness and guarantee our viability, we must continue to remain in a state of flux — to retain the advances of the past as we respond to the changing needs of our newer elected representatives.

But I find that my innovations and experiments have now taken on a life of their own — they have become part of the tried and true tradition that, in the interest of my being consistent, I cannot as easily experiment with as someone else who would succeed me.

And so it is to encourage continuing experimentation and refinement of our process that I will not be a candidate this coming year.

I want to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of you for your cooperation, help, and both agreement and disagreement.

Sincerely,

Justin L. Wyner

It has been a great privilege and one of the most rewarding experiences of my life to have served in this position and I am most grateful to all of the voters for having given me this opportunity.

There have been many people who have been of invaluable assistance to me as Moderator and prior to that, as Chairman of the Advisory Committee — but I want to express my particular thanks to Town Clerks — (the late) Arthur Shinnars, Thomas Larkin, Jack Kendrick and Bill Sullivan; Town Counsels — (the late) Dan Rollins, Phil Cowin, Dave Roseman and Dave Turner; Executive Secretaries — Arthur O'Shea and Dick Leary and particularly Deputy Executive Secretary Margaret Mahoney, who has helped me in so many ways including last minute very complex mailings to Town Meeting Members.

Nothing would be complete without my undying gratitude, appreciation, and admiration to the many hundreds of Town Meeting Members and citizens who have participated in our deliberations, answered my call to serve on committees and (almost) always graciously accepted my rulings. I hope I will have the privilege of serving them all again in some capacity in the future.

John F. The first verse of the Star Spangled Banner was sung by the audience and the invocation was given by Reverend Justus J. Fennel, Pastor of The First Presbyterian Church in Brookline. The Warrant for the Annual Town Meeting contained a list of eighteen articles.

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

TOWN CLERK

In 1981 a change in command took place in the office of Town Clerk. John F. Kendrick left the position on August 3, 1981 to assume the role of Town Administrator in the Town of Stoneham. The Board of Selectmen appointed William F. Sullivan as Town Clerk to serve until the Annual Town Election in 1982. On August 18, 1981 Mr. Sullivan appointed Mrs. Frances Halpern as Assistant Town Clerk.

The 1981 Annual Town Election was held on April 7th, followed by the Annual Town Meeting, which commenced on April 28, 1981. Due to financial constraints of Proposition 2½, the Board of Selectmen scheduled a Special Town Meeting within the Annual on April 28. This action enabled the Town Meeting to complete non-monetary business and to hold the Annual Appropriation Vote until June 10, 1981. There were eighteen articles in the warrant for the Annual Meeting, and the warrant for the April Special Meeting contained forty-eight articles.

A ten-article warrant for a Special Town Meeting on June 15, 1981 was handled in the one evening. A Roll Call vote for special consideration regarding Rent Control at The Brook House was the main attraction.

On the 26th day of August, a six article warrant for a Special Town Meeting dealing with addbacks to FY-1982 budgets was dealt with by the Town Meeting Members. This particular meeting was dissolved at 10:42 P.M. due to a lack of a quorum being present.

On November 17th a Special Town Meeting consisting of nineteen articles was convened at 7:25 P.M. and dissolved at 11:47 P.M. the same evening.

There were 378 Births recorded for the year, pending final results from the City of Boston. There were 487

Deaths recorded, pending final results. There were 609 Marriage Intentions filed and 597 Marriages recorded for the year.

Department receipts totaled $51,547.66, consisting of the following:

For the Annual Town Election held on April 7, 1981, the Registrars of Voters reported that there were 34,051 voters registered to vote.

The distribution of the total registered voters is as follows:

Democrats	14,520
Republicans	4,452

Total Voters	34,051

The Town Census for 1981 was 57,038, a slight decrease of 2,788 over the 1980 figure.

Town Counsel's Office

In calendar year 1981, the Town's legal department comprised Town Counsel, Associate Town Counsel and a legal secretary-paralegal. In addition to a third year law student research assistant eligible for federal work study funds, Town Counsel's office continued participation in the clinical program of the Boston College Environmental Law Review, with two second year law review staff members engaged in legal research for our office, at no cost to the Town.

Town Counsel and Associate Town Counsel rendered legal advice and assistance in 1981 to town officials and employees concerning the operation of the various departments. We furnished informal and formal opinions; drafted and approved all contracts (325 contracts in 1981) and other legal documents; advised in quasi-judicial actions by the Town (ie. licensing, retirement determinations). Counsel investigated and handled claims and potential claims against the Town and its employees and also claims and enforcement actions by the Town against others. We reviewed the agenda for each Selectmen's meeting and attended as required. Our office represented the Town in state administrative hearings, including retirement appeals, workers' compensation and special education (Chapter 766) appeals, as well as employee disciplinary hearings before the Board of Selectmen.

In 1981, two particular issues continued to require a considerable commitment of time by counsel: the licensing process for a cable television franchise in the town and the effects of enactment of Proposition 2½.

A major part of counsel's time is devoted to litigation, actual lawsuits to which the town is a party. In 1981, Town Counsel defended appeals from zoning, civil service and retirement board decisions, eminent domain proceedings, civil rights suits against town employees, a constitutional challenge to a Town by-law amendment, various education law cases and numerous personal injury and property damage suits. More than sixty-three cases against the town were disposed of by settlement or by court order. Twenty-one claims were resolved without litigation. There are currently thirty-eight personal injury, twenty-nine property damage, twelve zoning appeals and forty miscellaneous cases outstanding in which the town is a defendant or plaintiff for a total of one hundred thirty-one cases. The town is the plaintiff in twenty-two cases against others, mainly enforcement actions and appeals from state administrative decisions. Thirty-two new actions were brought against the town this year. Acting through Special Counsel, over one hundred Appellate Tax Board appeals were disposed of in CY 1981.

On behalf of the Treasurer's Office, Town Counsel's office pursued foreclosure proceedings in the Land Court and recovered delinquent real estate taxes and interest. Through our police investigator's efforts, our office also recovered $46,760 for damage to town property.

One of the most important duties of Town Counsel's office is to provide impartial assistance to town officers, employees and citizens in the preparation of Town Meeting articles and motions. For Town Meeting (the legislative arm of town government) Town Counsel and Associate Town Counsel have established a policy of impartial assistance and advice to all citizens and officials who participate in this process. Articles and the final warrant are submitted and reviewed as to form and legality. Motions for each article in the warrant are drawn and the quantum of vote required for passage of each motion is either noted on the motion or set forth in a letter to the Moderator. All questions of law which may be raised by officials or citizens are thoroughly researched and prepared for presentation to the meeting.

Purchasing

The Purchasing Department procures all supplies and equipment for every Town department and the School Department including the School Lunch Program. In 1981, 10,062 purchase orders with a total value of $3,251,428 were issued. There were 197 advertised bids, each with a value in excess of $2,000 and which required formally executed contracts. All purchases were made in accordance with statutory requirements. Appropriate requisition, bid, contract, and purchase order records were maintained.

Proposition 2½ has had a significant impact on the Purchasing Department. The volume of purchase orders has declined but not in proportion to the reduction in staff. There were 11,920 purchase orders issued in 1979, 10,588 in 1980, and 10,062 in 1982 or a 15.6% reduction from 1979. At the same time, the department's clerical staff has been reduced from four to two full time positions or a 50% reduction.

In order to cope with reduced staffing, a Limited Purchase Order form was introduced on July 1, 1981. A Limited Purchase Order allows authorized departments to eliminate the requisition procedure and make purchases up to $250 directly. As a result, clerical work associated with small orders has been reduced to a minimum. Purchasing Department effort is now focused on obtaining maximum savings through the use of written quotations and advertised bids on larger purchases.

The Purchasing Department worked with the Emergency Medical Services Advisory Committee to develop specifications, bids, and contract documents for the ambulance service contract which began on January 1, 1981. Excellent emergency ambulance service was provided during the year at no cost to the Town through the new contract.

The Purchasing Department is cooperating with the Human Relations-Youth Resources Commission to effect the town's Minority Business Enterprise Program. Procedures were established to insure that minority and women owned firms received the Town's invitations to bid.

Price controls on petroleum were removed on January 28, 1981. Prices increased rapidly during the month following decontrol but then stabilized and in some instances decreased as supply exceeded demand. The Purchasing Department coordinated cooperative bids with five other area cities and towns for gasoline and diesel fuel. Cooperative bidding reduced the town's price for gasoline by $.02 per gallon. The price of diesel fuel was reduced by $.04 per gallon.

Personnel Board

Throughout 1981 the Personnel Board shared in the town's struggle to come to grips with the impact of Proposition 2½. With high inflation and no firm budget figures available to provide a basis for collective bargaining, negotiations with the Unions were delayed until late in the spring. Even then, financial information amounted to best estimates.

Early in June the Town came to an agreement with the Brookline Engineering Division Associates on a one-year contract providing for a 6% salary increase and the reinstatement of a 15 minute afternoon rest period. Funding for this contract was voted at a Special Town Meeting on July 13, 1981.

During July, the financial outlook improved considerably with the release of increased state aid figures. The Special Town Meeting in July firmed up the town's budget providing a much better idea of the town's actual financial situation. With that information the Personnel Board was able to conclude agreements with all remaining employee unions. Local 1358, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, the Brookline Police Association, the Brookline Recreation Employees Association and the Staff Association of the Public Library of Brookline all agreed to one year contracts providing only a wage increase of 6.5% effective July 1, 1981 and a further increase of 2.5% on January 1, 1982. The Local 950, International Association of Firefighters bargaining representatives agreed to the same wage increase and a reduction in minimum manning to permit the town to operate the existing 10 Fire Companies with 36 men on duty instead of 40. To prevent the immediate deactivation of a fire company due to FY 82 budget reductions, the Fire union and the town had agreed to reduced minimum manning for the months of July and August on a trial basis.

The new contract would make that arrangement permanent. However, just before Town Meeting the members of the Firefighters' Association rejected ratification of that agreement. The August 26 Town Meeting funded the contracts with the other employee unions. It also approved deactivation of 1 of the 10 fire companies and elimination of 5 Firefighter Aide duty assignments among other budget cuts.

The Personnel Board returned to negotiations with Local 950 in an attempt to resolve the issues which had prevented ratification. In mid-October the parties reached agreement on a one-year contract. The terms were limited to 1.) the same 6.5-2.5% wage increase agreed to by the other unions, and 2.) a change in the minimum manning language to require 1 officer and 3 firefighters per company, per shift. Funding for this agreement was voted at the Special Town Meeting on November 17, 1981.

At year's end the Personnel Board faced negotiations for FY 83 contracts with all six employee unions. In the future, as in the past, the Board will continue to do its utmost to balance the legitimate economic concerns of the town's employees with the limitations of the town's financial resources.

Information Services

INFORMATION SERVICES is responsible for providing cost-effective computer services to all town and school departments. The department, created in late 1977, reports to a joint Computer Coordinating Committee for policy and goal setting. This consolidation of computer resources returns annual savings of over $300,000 compared to purchasing equivalent commercial computer services.

The major computer is a Hewlett-Packard 3000 with 40 terminal locations. These "typewriter-TV-like" terminals are distributed throughout town offices and schools to provide direct access to data from the point where it is needed.

Town Terminal Network/Applications

Assessors

Major activity is establishment and testing of a computer model to assist in calculation of real estate valuations. A phone (dial-up) terminal, plus a dedicated terminal, support this activity. Real Estate, Personal Property, and Auto Excise are computerized.

Police-Traffic

A terminal in the Traffic Division is used to enter parking tickets and ticket payment.

Town Clerk

Terminal is used for updating the town's census data and voter registration control.

Comptroller

This office has a terminal to support transition to a new general accounting system. Appropriation Accounting, Payroll, and Accounts Payable are currently automated, but are being converted to an upgraded, on-line (direct access to data from remote locations) system.

Treasurer

Plans are in place to move to a one-time capture remittance control system. All payments recorded once and properly accounted for and controlled. Auto Excise and Real Estate posting and accounting is automated.

School Terminal Network/Applications

Brookline High

The main office and each house have terminal access to student records for scheduling changes/inquiries and report card inquiry.

Elementary Schools

Each of the eight schools has access to their students' records for general inquiry and attendance. Instructional use is made of the terminals during 50% non-administrative usage.

Special Needs Student Accounting

A town hall terminal is dedicated to automatically keeping the expanded data required for special needs reporting.

Career Center

This high school located terminal is used by students to explore occupational choices through dialogue with a computer bank of occupations.

Computer Science

Six terminals are dedicated to training in computer fundamentals and programming at the high school. This mini-lab is a "peak" interest area in the town's adult education program.

Brookline Early Education Project

Two terminals are dedicated to the statistical research necessary to obtain maximum benefit from the project's efforts. Both terminals use phones to "dial-in" to the computer.

During times of shrinking municipal budgets computers are used to eliminate manual record keeping steps (e.g. automatic posting of excise payments), identify and follow-up revenue opportunities (delinquent parking ticket summons automatic preparation), and to provide decision support data (budget changes impact analysis and projections).

There is growing recognition of INFORMATION as an asset which, properly managed, can reduce costs and increase revenues.

PUBLIC SAFETY

Police Department

General Activities

The Department while operating under the constraints and limitations applied as a result of 2½, has had its most productive and rewarding year in recent memory reflected in the fact that the crime rate in the town has decreased by almost 17% and the arrest and conviction rate has increased by almost double over the 1980 figures. No small credit can be given to this increase without the realization that most of these arrests, convictions and crime decreases are attributable to the fact that the present administration within the department has directed a heavy concentration on the enforcement of traffic laws with the resulting effect that "routine" traffic stops are frequently resulting in major arrests through the discovery of more serious and felonious crimes as a result of the initial traffic stop.

The Department remains the most active and proficient in Norfolk County according to the office of the District Attorney second only in volume of cases to the City of Quincy. We have maintained a 98% conviction rate in all criminal cases heard on appeal in the Norfolk Superior Court.

Twenty-nine police officers of this department have received forty commendations from the town, this department and State and Federal agencies for outstanding police work.

The Department assisted 2,840 persons in the form of emergency medical aid or transportation to area hospitals.

Officers arrested 788 persons for various Part I and Part II crimes including 59 juveniles. Four hundred and sixty-two persons were taken into protective custody including twenty-one juveniles for intoxication.

The Department committed to the Town Treasurer $12,970.75 as a result of income derived from various fees, permits and licenses and auctions.

As previously noted the enforcement of traffic laws and the operation of that unit has resulted in an amazing increase in overall operational proficiency as indicated by the following figures:

The system of collection for traffic parking ticket fines, long a function of the court, has now been transferred to the Traffic Unit of the Department and is now in operation. Hopefully this will result in a more expeditious and efficient collection of the fines and other monies involved and turned over to the town.

Training

Despite cutbacks in available resources and personnel for training purposes at the State level, we have been able to maintain our complete training program through the use of in-house and community people for lecture and resource availability. All officers are continuing to complete forty hours of in-service training annually and the Department now has approximately sixty percent of the personnel who possess or are in the process of obtaining college degrees in Law Enforcement or related fields.

This unit has conducted a more community-oriented training program wherein the Department relies, supports and cooperates more thoroughly with agencies such as Mental Health, Schools, Welfare and other town-based social service operatives, while still maintaining the required training in the areas of Firearms, First Aid, Law and Traffic Enforcement, etc. The unit continues to be a model for other departments in the opinion of the Massachusetts Police Training Council.

Animal Control

The Animal Control Unit investigated 1387 incidents concerning dogs and issued 210 citations. There were 250 dogs impounded. The unit is now operating with one patrol officer due to recent cuts under Proposition 2½ resulting in the loss of two civilian dog control officers.

Community Relations

The division has continued to increase its function of meeting with neighborhood groups to determine the needs of the community and to make the residents aware of the incidents and practices which affect them. The awareness programs have contributed to the decrease in crime and increase in arrests because of the spirit of cooperation that exists between the police and these citizens who are becoming more and more involved in the security of their own homes and neighborhoods, especially in notifying the police of all suspicious and unusual activity they observe.

Security surveys of both residential and commercial properties has increased.

A program which uses high school students as part of their curriculum to volunteer their services at the police station has thereby relieved officers for patrol and other more important functions. This close relationship in working together has developed into an increasing mutual respect between the police and youth.

The division and community together have noted a decrease in racial and other investigations this past year as a result of dialogue and mutual effort of the police and community social agencies.

The Park Police Intern Program continues to have an impressive effect on the decreasing vandalism and youth problems in the parks and playgrounds of the town.

Auxiliary Police

This unit is now in the process of increasing its membership and will hopefully be a more visible and effective unit with the addition of a police vehicle now being assigned to the Auxiliaries for patrol and back-up services to the regular patrol officers. The Auxiliaries contribute valuable time and energy to the community as volunteers.

Fire Department

During 1981 the Fire Department responded to 5,354 incidents of which 2,145 were medical emergencies and 9 were multiple alarms. Mutual Aid was rendered to various communities in our Metrofire District, the most notable being the Lynn conflagration of November 28, 1981. Brookline likewise received coverage and assistance.

During 1981 the Table of Organization was as follows: Chief of Department, six Deputy Chiefs, nine Captains, twenty-nine Lieutenants and one hundred forty-four Fire Fighters, five Fire Alarm Operators, one Superintendent of Wires, one Signal Maintainer, one Office Manager, one Senior Clerk, one Junior Clerk - Total one hundred ninety-nine.

Eleven members of the department retired including former Acting Chief of Department John J. Duffy and four members resigned. James R. Philbrick, Superintendent of Wires passed away and was awarded full departmental funeral honors. Several other retired members passed away and were awarded departmental funeral honors. Retired Fire Fighter John T. Radley was one of those awarded such honors.

Fire Prevention

Brookline continued its leadership during 1981 in the installation of smoke detectors in every residential dwelling unit in the town. It will be necessary for us to continue to follow-up on these installations to insure that the detector systems are being adequately maintained.

There were 6,630 inspections made of which 3,450 were smoke detector inspections. Several fires of suspicious origin are currently under investigation by the Fire Prevention Division.

The Fire Prevention Division is mainly responsible for the implementation of the new fee schedule adopted in 1981. I expect to substantially increase revenues generated by the Fire Department as a result of this fee schedule.

The Fire Prevention Division is responsible for public education in fire safety and in this regard a Junior Fire Marshal Program was instituted in all of the second and third grades of the public school system in Brookline. The Fire Department visited each such class and distributed literature donated by a local merchant for the Junior Fire Marshal Program. I consider this young target group to be most important to our public fire education efforts. We hope to continue this innovative approach with donated material in the years ahead.

Training

During 1981 our training facilities were used as a "satellite" facility for two area wide seminars relating to elevator type emergencies and fire incident reporting systems. We also conducted a one week emergency medical seminar that was open to citizens of the town. Professionals from area hospitals were involved and were coordinated by Dr. Mark Weinstein of the Beth Israel Hospital, the Town's Emergency Medical Director.

In service training was provided for all members during their regular work schedule. An in-depth auto extrication course was conducted in December at our training facility using the "Jaws of Life."

A dozen or more vehicles, donated by local auto clubs, tow companies and salvage companies were systematically dismantled during these training sessions. All members of the department were trained as medical first responders in compliance with state law. Our EMT certification program is ongoing and we had 40 EMT's certified by years end, well on our way to our goal of 55 EMT's which will provide at least two EMT's on each of the EMT fire companies in the town.

Apparatus and Equipment

The major impact here was the deactivation of Engine #7 on September 1, 1981. This was due to Proposition 2½ budget cut backs. The crew assigned to Engine #7 was reassigned to other companies within the department. There were no layoffs, personnel reductions were by attrition. The pumping engine itself (a 1977 Pirsch-1250 gal. pumper) was completely overhauled and returned to service as the new Engine #2, a replacement for old Engine #2 (a 1960 -1250 gal. pumper) at the Brookline Village Station. Old Engine #2 was placed in reserve. There were no other apparatus replacements in 1981.

Fire Department Buildings

There were no major repairs to fire department buildings in 1981. There were minor maintenance repairs done at several stations.

Emergency Medical Service

The new EMS delivery system completed its first full year of operation in 1981. This involves a joint fire, police and private ambulance system. It has been extremely effective in providing top level emergency medical services. We currently have 45 members of this department who have completed EMT schooling.

Fire Alarm and Wire Division

Installation and repair of fire alarm cable was curtailed during 1981 because of budgetary constraints. However, several new master boxes were added to the system with the costs of same borne by the user.

In closing, I must comment on the cutbacks in the department brought about by Proposition 2½. The main impact was the deactivation of Engine Co. #7, the elimination of five Fire Fighter Aide positions and the elimination of one Signal Maintainer in the Wire Division. The table of organization was reduced from 220 positions to 199.

EMS coordinated system of Fire, Police and private ambulance service in action.

Building Department

1981 was the year that Proposition 2½ became effective. The demand on the Building Department's services continued because residential construction within the town maintained the pace of 1980. Notwithstanding the loss of personnel within the Department because of the financial constraints imposed, prudent and judicious selections have retained the necessary inspection personnel to provide for the continued construction of buildings in full compliance with and conformance to rules and regulations pertaining to the structural integrity and the health, comfort, and life safety of the occupants of buildings.

During 1981 - the following major developments were completed - 287-339 Goddard Avenue - 22 town houses, 23 Sumner Road - conversion of a nursing home into 4 condominiums, 101 Summit Avenue - conversion of a former hospital building into 5 condominiums, and the conversion of 930 Commonwealth Avenue - one of the largest automobile showrooms and service buildings in the area - into an office building.

Construction commenced on the conversion of the Corey Hill Garage, 50 Winchester Street, into 34 condominiums; 1265 Beacon Street, demolition of a fire damaged structure and construction of a 40 unit luxury condominium building; the subdivision of 375 and 525 Boylston Street and the construction of 38 dwelling units consisting of 8 single family dwellings, 13 town houses, and the conversion of existing buildings to 17 dwelling units; 41 Centre Street, another luxury 30 unit condominium building; The Hollows, 341 Newton Street, a cluster subdivision of 11 townhouses; 7 townhouses on Marion Terrace; and 39 units of housing for the elderly at 190 Harvard Street by the Brookline Housing Authority.

New condominium structure — 41 Centre Street

The Legislature of the Commonwealth eliminated the funding for the State Building Code Commission as it reduced the State budget. The loss of this Agency, which assisted the local building departments with interpretations of the Building Code, provision of educational training seminars, and the maintenance of the currency of the Building Code, has been most distressing because there is no agency within the State government that has the quality of personnel, as to capability and competency, to fulfill the need.

During 1981, the Department collected fees totalling $253,370, an increase of 1700 percent above the $15,219 collected in 1974. You should be aware that we have repeatedly recommended to the Board of Selectmen, which approved and forwarded the recommendation to Town Meeting, revisions to the fee schedules. The support and approval of Town Meeting is sincerely appreciated. The inspection of plumbing, gasfitting, electrical, and building construction is being supported entirely by the fees collected — in other words — those receiving the service are bearing the expense of rendering the service.

Certificates of inspection were issued to 167 places of public assembly, 65 lodging houses, and 1 apartment house. The volume and type of permits issued were:

Classification	Number of Permits	Estimated Cost
New wood & frame	27	$4,625,752
New brick & stone	15	$4,573,000
Alterations	632	9,603,041
Electrical	1042	2,029,145
Gasfitting	507	341,020
Plumbing	599	1,400,235
Elevator Inspections	290	—
Condominium inspections	172	—

The Commissioner or his representative attends all meetings of the Building Commission, the Board of Appeals, the Board of Examiners, and those of the Board of Selectmen as required.

The Board of Appeals established by the Building Code of the Town is also the Board of Appeals under the Zoning By-Law. The Board of Appeals met 45 times during 1981 to hear persons appealing decisions of the Building Commissioner in 84 cases.

The Department provides technical assistance to all other town departments and programs of the town. It coordinates its inspection activities with other pertinent town departments and agencies such as Health, Fire, Code Enforcement, Rent Control, etc. and continually interfaces with the Board of Assessors, Planning, Public Works, Recreation, and School Departments and the Library Board of Trustees.

Repairs to Town Buildings

As with other programs, the implementation of Proposition 2½ resulted in a drastic reduction of the Repairs to Public Buildings budget. All requests for special work items were eliminated and monies for general maintenance services were reduced to sixty-five percent of the previous year's appropriation.

This has made for a close observance of policy, often unpopular, wherein those work items involving safety, security, and maintenance are performed before those items that may be delayed or are of a convenience or an aesthetic nature.

Under the guidance of the Energy Conservation Study Committee, the contract for the installation of an energy management system has been awarded. This system involves the monitoring of building conditions, heat, air conditioning, electric consumption, so as to optimize the use of boilers, pumps, ventilation units as outside weather conditions dictate or allow. The central control office has been located in the Town Hall with installation work in progress at the Pierce School, Main Library, Police Station, High School Complex and Runkle School.

That part of the program to render the municipal public buildings accessible to the handicapped involving the addition or remodeling of toilet facilities has been completed with the conversion of a toilet facility at the Police Station. In the planning stage is an interior ramp in the Meeting Room of the Coolidge Corner Library, curb cuts and vehicle parking arrangements at other facilities.

Community Development Rehabilitation Programs

The Town Rehabilitation Office, under the direction of the Building Department, is responsible for the administration of the Section 312 Federal Loan Program, the Comprehensive Housing Inspection Program, and homeowner grant and rebate programs in Central Village and North Brookline. A Town-Wide Rebate and Grant Program is also available to low-income homeowners throughout Brookline. Funding for these programs is provided through the Federal Government's Community Development Block Grant Program (CDBG).

The Comprehensive Housing Inspection Program has continued to maintain a strong stance in dealing with recalcitrant property owners. In 1981, our Legal Counsel and Code Inspectors made at least 30 Court appearances to testify against landlords who have been consistently in violation of Chapter II of the State Sanitary Code. 1200 dwelling units were reinspected during 1981. Approximately 300 units were brought into compliance in Central Village bringing the total since the program's inception to 2,200 dwelling units.

The Section 312 Loan Program (3% interest rate) provided an additional $325,000 to assist in the rehabilitation of 11 structures containing 28 dwelling units during 1981. A grand total of $2.7 million, since the program's inception, has been used to assist homeowners to improve more than 240 structures containing 475 dwelling units. Unfortunately, this program was suspended by the Federal Government in the middle of 1981 and future hope for continuation is bleak.

The rebate and grant programs continued to be successful during 1981 with $225,000 in the rebate program generating more than $1 million worth of rehabilitation work benefiting 201 dwelling units in 101 structures. The grant program provided $82,825 to assist in the rehabilitation of 15 structures containing 36 units.

The Town Rehabilitation Office provides other services to the town by assuming responsibility for monitoring the progress of other rehabilitation projects funded through the Block Grant Program. These have included: The Children's Center, The Webster Place Family Counseling Center renovations, The Brookline Arts Center Handicapped Accessibility renovations and several rehabilitation contracts for improvements for the Brookline Housing Authority. The staff also assists and advises homeowners and prospective homeowners who contact the Office requesting information on contractors, types of materials to use, or the best way to finish a home improvement project. More than 100 homeowners throughout Brookline were given technical assistance in this manner during 1981 although they did not directly participate in the subsidy programs.

Board of Examiners

The Board of Examiners, established under the Building Code of the town, consists of three members appointed by the Board of Selectmen. The members, a licensed builder, a registered professional engineer, and a registered architect, administer the licensing of qualified persons in the building construction industry. The State Building Code Commission (funding for which was not included in the State FY-82 budget) had anticipated commencing a licensing program on January 1, 1982, however, this proposed licensing would not supplant the town's Board of Examiners.

The 1981 Annual Town Meeting approved an amendment to the Building Code establishing an examination fee of fifteen dollars.

During 1981, a total of 57 applicants were examined and successfully qualified for licenses. 50 licenses were issued including:

- 7 ABC (separately or combined-fire resistive construction)
- 5 D & F - Masonry Walls
- 16 F - Frame Construction
- 14 F/Limited-Alterations & Repairs
- 8 M/S - Miscellaneous, Siding, Awnings/Canopies

In addition to the new licenses issued, 312 licenses were renewed during 1981. Fees collected during 1981 totalled $7,735.00.

Effective July 1, 1981 the Public Works Department was reorganized to include the Park, Forestry, Cemetery, Conservation and Transportation Divisions in addition to the Engineering, Highway, Sanitation and Water Divisions.

Paul Willis, The Conservation Director, was appointed on July 20, 1981 as Director of the new Park, Forestry and Cemetery

Division. Mr. Willis will retain his conservation responsibilities.

Highway and Sanitation Divisions

The overall winter was relatively mild. Eleven snow storms deposited a total of 30" of snow on Brookline.

Highway Division forces this year did all of the permanent patching of streets and walks which was previously performed by a contractor. This work is in addition to the normal street and sidewalk repairs made by the Division.

Cleaning crews picked up approximately 5,200 tons of leaves, litter and sand during the year. The Sanitation Division collected and disposed of 22,600 tons of Solid Waste. The Newton Street Recycling Center was open for voluntary recycling of paper, glass and cans.

Engineering Division

The Transportation Department activities were absorbed by the Engineering Division effective July 1, 1981.

With Community Development Block Grant Funds, the Engineering Division reconstructed Station Street, rehabilitated the curb and sidewalk on portions of Kent Street and Perry Street, extended the Public Improvements Projects in Washington Square and Coolidge Corner, constructed a 12" storm drain in Coolidge Corner to alleviate flooding in a part of the Centre Street East Parking Lot, prepared a Tree Planting contract for Allerton Street, supervised the erection of play equipment at Pierce Playground and directed the site preparation of the Kent Street-Station Street Off Street Parking Facility.

Station Street Public Improvements

State Aid Funds were used by the Engineering Division to resurface portions of Heath Street, Newton Street and Beacon Street. Annual Contracts for Traffic Signals and Traffic Line Maintenance were prepared and administered by the Division throughout the year.

The Engineering Division assisted in the preparation of the Site Feasibility Study for the new Water Division Garage and supervised and inspected the final year of the $3,000,000 Cleaning and Lining of Water Mains Contract for the Water Division.

Preliminary plans and applications for an Urban Systems Project in Brookline Village were prepared and submitted to the State and Federal Government. Approval was granted for the $600,000 project scheduled for construction in early 1983.

Engineering surveys, designs, estimates, reports, plans and inspection were provided for various town departments during 1981.

Water Division

The three year contract to clean and line or replace eighteen miles of water mains was completed this fall. The Ameron Pipe Lining Company was the contractor on this work. The Water Division assigned full time support crews to this project for making all connections and related work within the buildings as well as operating all street valves. Approximately 60 miles of the 134 miles of water mains have been cleaned and lined or replaced to date.

Ninety-five new or relayed water services were provided this year.

The water rate was increased in January, 1981 from $0.65 to $0.90 per hundred cubic feet consumed. The last increase was in April, 1979. The $0.90 water rate is necessary to more nearly equal the operating costs, including the purchase cost of $240. per million gallons paid to the M.D.C.

Park, Forestry and Cemetery Divisions

George F. Lynch, Acting Superintendent of Parks, retired at year's end after serving the town well for 32 years.

The work force reduction caused by Prop. 2½ resulted in re-scheduling the park maintenance program. Repairs, cleanups and grass cutting were provided to all public grounds on a reduced, regular schedule. In addition to maintenance of athletic facilities, school grounds, parks, playgrounds and traffic islands, the park personnel continued to maintain the Larz Anderson Skating Rink and the Putterham

Meadows Golf Course, with the Recreation Dept. assuming tasks of permits, fees and activity operation.

The Harry Downes Field and Cypress Playground Improvement Projects funded by CDBG Funds were completed. Installation of Timberform play equipment at Pierce and Robinson Playgrounds added to the use of these areas, with improved handicapped accessibility at Pierce. With the help of CDBG funds, improvements were made to the Longwood Playground addition (formerly Knights of Columbus). Dr. Barton Tayer, Park and Recreation Commission Chairman, spoke at the spring dedication ceremony. In coordination with the Division Director, the Lawrence Neighborhood formed the Friends of Longwood Playground.

Cooperative efforts with groups included the Devotion School cleanups, Baker School PTO, and the Friends of Leverett Pond. An agreement from a private development to provide maintenance services to part of Olmsted Park was received. The Park and Recreation Commission was a sponsor for the National Olmsted Conference in Brookline.

Softball fields were prepared for the New England Regional Softball Tournament.

Dedication of Longwood Playground Addition, planting of tree by Lawrence Neighborhood Association, Friends of Longwood Playground

Forestry Division

The Tree Planting Program was restricted in 1981, allowing only CDBG allocations. With CD funds, by contract, a total of 125 trees were planted: Beacon St., 79-4"; Allerton St., 24-4"; Washington Square, 7-4"; Aspinwall Ave., 14-3" (replacements); Cameron St., 1-3" replacement, and Kent St., 23-3". Forestry personnel planted 80 trees throughout Central Village and North Brookline with a $4,500 surplus from the CD Beacon Street tree program.

For Arbor Day, 1000 scotch pines were distributed to elementary schools.

A total of 192 trees were planted and 262 trees were removed, with 27 destroyed by car accidents and unknown causes. The Police Department assisted in recovering about $4,500 which was deposited in the General Fund. The following is the breakdown for plantings (±) and removals (-):

Elm + 0, -71; Maple + 42, -99; Ash + 76, -30; Oak + 0, -30; Linden + 16, -8; Sycamore + 41, -6; Locust + 10, -9; others + 7, -23.

To control the Gypsy Moth problem, partial spraying was conducted using the biological agent Dipel, with a resulting effectiveness of only 60%. Preparations for a more severe, widespread infestation were made for 1982. The death of 11 oak trees can be attributed to Gypsy Moths, plus hundreds of trees with dead limbs. Tree pruning in effected areas was limited because of reduced manpower. The snow storm on December 4 resulted in 50 emergency Forestry responses for fallen trees or large limbs.

Throughout the year about 100 tons of debris and woodbrush was disposed of and hundreds of tons of hardwood was distributed to residents as requested.

Other accomplishments included lighting maintenance at tennis courts and the skating rink; chopping Christmas trees; inspection of tree planting contracts; Edison tree work; stump removals; and repair of tools and equipment.

Walnut Hills Cemetery

Carl R. Untersee was appointed Cemetery Supervisor, overseeing the permanent work crew at the Cemetery. Edward J. Baker retired, having served as Superintendent since 1977. The Trustees sold 13 lots and 67 single graves. There were 105 burials and 52 memorials set in 1981.

Conservation Commission

The seven Commissioners continue to set policies and directives to protect, preserve and improve environmental quality. The Commission's work and budget were complemented by considerable volunteer assistance and a grant. Their contributions of time and materials was three times the actual budget.

Conservation Land

A CETA Summer Youth Employment Grant totalling $28,000 was received and implemented by the Conservation Assistant in coordination with Park Director. The 16 youths received environmental education and experience while maintaining and improving the three Sanctuaries: Amory Woods, Hall's Pond, and D. Blakeley Hoar. The Friends of Hall's Pond continue to provide valuable assistance in the care of the Sanctuary through all seasons. Regular cleanups were held, the N.U. fraternity Nu Epsilon Zeta worked hard in the fall, and boyscouts improved boardwalk accessibility.

Open Space

The Open Space Plan revision was prepared by Conservation Assistant, Barbara Whiting, receiving approval by MAPC and meeting the state's funding status requirements. After review of a volunteer's landscape proposal for the Lenox Street parcels, negotiations for a conservation easement continued with strong neighborhood support. The National Association for Olmsted Parks Conference was sponsored by the Commission, with 250 participants touring Olmsted Park in Brookline. The Friends of Leverett Pond were instrumental in the town's receiving a donation of maintenance work through a public-private agreement worth $5,000, an incentive for other sites.

Volunteers at Fall Clean-Up 1981 Hall's Pond Sanctuary

Volunteers

In May, the 10th Annual Town Earth Day celebration included many successful events sponsored by the Commission with merchant school, friends and neighborhood groups. The Environmentalist of the Year Award included categories for 8 recipients with a diverse range of environmental contributions. Two newly initiated Friends groups are seeking incorporation: Muddy River and Lost Pond. As an outgrowth of the Commission's "Friends", the Adopt-a-Green Space concept received positive response from other agencies and participation by several groups.

Environmental Protection

Mandated functions of wetlands protection included 3 Determinations, 2 Orders of Conditions, 2 Extensions, 2 Completions, 2 Cease & Desist Orders, 3 public hearings, and regular site inspections for 7 developments. For the Flood Insurance Program 35 determinations were issued. An oil spill in Leverett Pond and Muddy River was monitored in July and recommendations regarding an increase in fuel storage were made. More than 30 noise complaints were received, and citizen inquiries regarding energy and water conservation, recycling and gypsy moths were addressed.

Transportation Board

Despite shortages of staff assistance and major organizational changes brought about by severe budget cuts, the Transportation Board has continued to function as the regulatory body for the town on matters relating to the operation of vehicles and pedestrians on the public ways. The Board consists of six citizens, appointed by the Board of Selectmen, serving without pay.

During 1981, the Transportation Board met fourteen times, discussing and taking action on more than two hundred agenda items. Among these items were the adoption of a regulation governing Permit Parking, consideration of Urban Systems improvements in Brookline Village, the annual renewal of Towing Contract and taxicab licenses, review and revision of violation fines, and review of public transportation matters.

RECREATION

The Recreation Department, along with all other town agencies, felt a very strong impact from Proposition 2½. Although the Department found it necessary to cut or curtail in several areas, every effort was made by the staff to maintain quality programs of which the town has always had good reason in which to take pride.

The reorganization of Park and Recreation has proven to be a very interesting and rewarding challenge to the Department's administration and staff. For the first year in many years, the Golf Course not only paid for itself but also showed an excellent profit to the town. It was kept open and playable as long as weather permitted. Golfers are avid participants and vocally express their needs and appreciation.

The Department, during 1981, raised fees for admission to all of its programs and is happy to report that almost $400,000. in revenue was brought into the town coffers. It was an all-time high. Much of the receipts was realized from use of the Golf Course and tennis courts in addition to I.D. cards for the Main Facility, Morning Play programs, youth activities and other scheduled available recreational programs.

The Department has been hit hard in trying to maintain a swimming program acceptable to the general public. In response to the 2½ demand to save dollars in salaries and energy, the pool is now open four consecutive days (Sunday through Wednesday), but is closed the other three days. The Department deeply regrets that those steps were deemed necessary, and is hopeful that the public will understand and appreciate the efforts which are being made to retain swimming programs while still following the mandate of the Selectmen and Advisory Committee.

1981 saw the completion of Cypress Park and Downes Field, both of which will be a boon to Men's and Women's softball programs. It is of course very nice to have such beautiful areas available for Recreation programs.

One of the continuing very popular programs is soccer which is most attractive and popular to about 800 youngsters (both girls and boys) in the town.

For the first time, the Recreation Department sponsored the men's State Amateur Fast Pitch Tournament which was very successfully held at Cypress and Downes Fields. Three Brookline teams participated and fared very well with one team coming in as the runner-up. There were many spectators as well as players and all thoroughly enjoyed the new event.

A very humble thank you goes most sincerely to the Brookline Police Mutual Aid Association who once again came forth with a very substantial donation to the program for retarded people which is operated by the Department. In addition to the September to June Saturday activities, a full day Summer Day Camp formerly in session at the Baldwin School is now held at the Soule Center which also houses a Summer Day Camp program for children ages 4-6, in addition to a Morning Play group during the fall and winter.

Very few playgrounds could be staffed by the Department, also due to the current state of austerity, but Summer Day Camps at Eliot and the Lynch Center were in full swing. Many programs during the fall and winter season continue at the Lynch Center including a Teen-Age Drop-In, Adult Education courses, Morning Play, Afternoon Day Care, Neighborhood group meetings and town agency meetings. The Brookline Group for the Handicapped also holds meetings and special events there. Special sessions for the Handicapped are also held at the Swimming Pool.

The Volleyball program held at the North Wing has grown by leaps and bounds. It is a recreational sport, played for fun with a carry-over value for those involved.

The Recreation Department will continue to put forth the best effort possible to maintain meaningful leisure time activities for all Brookline residents. The Department is fortunate in having a dedicated, conscientious staff which is willing to work beyond the call of duty, and is determined to continue to serve in every capacity necessary.

Superintendent Opens New Year

Superintendent Robert I. Sperber opened the school year in the fall of 1981 by reaffirming his commitment to public education. Quoting James Conant, he said that public schools are "continuing insurance for the preservation of the vitality of a society of free" people. Sperber told the faculty that "all of us will have to work harder" in order to continue to provide an excellent education for all of the Town's children.

Sperber's remarks came in the wake of Proposition 2½, the tax-cutting measure which has reduced the school budget by 2.3 million dollars since last year. The result has been major reductions in equipment, supplies, and administrative and Civil Service personnel, but there has been no change in class size. Should Brookline succeed in overriding Prop. 2½ under the new voting procedures, Sperber predicted that "we will be able to avoid significant cuts in the fiscal 1983 school year."

The Superintendent acknowledged that education "is at a low point in terms of national prestige and federal priorities," and offered "suggestions for how the profession can regain its proper stature." He advocated developing ties between schools and business, demonstrating that excellent schools strengthen the government and the military, and continuing to raise standards and expectations for students' achievement.

Sperber challenged the faculty to accept Alvin Tofler's contention that "if the schools have any function, it is to prepare young people for the future. If it prepares them for the wrong future, it cripples them." Sperber said that schools must address "the danger of nuclear weaponry," "strategies for building an international force for world nuclear disarmament," pollution, nuclear waste disposal, "solutions for the world hunger crisis," and "how public policy is made." He alerted the faculty to "resist forces striving to eliminate humanistic education." Finally, he reaffirmed his long-standing leadership in early childhood and parent education by announcing the inception of three new pre-school programs in the Brookline Public Schools.

Brookline High School:

Other Teachers Learn From English Department

In this time of shrinking school budgets and "teacher burn-out," the BHS English department is teaching other teachers how to survive. The department gave a presentation on "Survival Strategies for Teachers" at the annual convention of the National Council of Teachers of English in Nov. 1981. Over seventy teachers from all over the United States crowded the seminar hall as 15 Brookline teachers described three self-initiated programs for staff development:

1) The Humanities Series, now in its third year, has included lectures by poet David McCord, physicist Gerald Holden, New Yorker literary critic Helen Vendler, psychologist Thomas Cottle, and Boston University engineer Louis Padulo. The series began as a one-semester Humanities course at Brookline High, and became in 1979 a lecture series at the Brookline Public Library. The series is now co-sponsored by Brookline Adult Education, and held in private homes.

2) A literary magazine, Foolscap, was founded in 1978 by English teacher Jeff Young and Lincoln Housemaster John Ritchie. At first without outside funds, and now with financial support, the English teachers have published two issues of their own literary magazine; a third issue is on the way.

3) A Book Review Committee, run by English teacher Sorel Berman, meets monthly to read and discuss literature by authors as varied as Flaubert and Woody Allen.

The programs seem to be working. The BHS English department has for the fifth consecutive year received an NCTE commendation for "excellence in instruction," and in ten of the past eleven years a BHS student has been cited by the NCTE for outstanding performance in writing.

"I'm impressed," said John Vargo, an English teacher from Shaker Heights, Ohio, after the presentation. "These teachers are practicing their discipline, not just teaching it. It's extraordinary." Vargo said he plans to bring the Brookline teachers' ideas back to his own high school.

Accreditation Evaluation

BHS students, parents, teachers, and administrators have been preparing since spring 1981 for the school's ten-year accreditation evaluation which occurred in April, 1982. The evaluation by the New England Association for Schools and Colleges involves a "rigorous self-evaluation." A group of students, parents, teachers, and School Committee member Richard Yoder rewrote the school Philosophy and Objectives, and the school's audiovisual department made a slide-tape presentation on the diversity of BHS. (The school population is now 25% minority and 13% foreign-born.)

Accreditation for the next ten years seems certain. "Despite Prop 2½, the school is still in a very, very strong position," said Headmaster Robert McCarthy.

Superintendent Robert I. Sperber speaking at the inauguration of a research archive at Brookline High School's Sylvia K. Burack Library.

Brookline High is the first public high school in the country to possess an archive. At a school ceremony on Dec. 15, the complete ten-volume transcript of the second trial of Alger Hiss was turned over to BHS by the Harvard Law School Library.

The transfer marked the beginning of a collaboration between BHS and the Harvard Law School Library. In addition to studying the Hiss transcripts in their own school library, students taking law courses at Brookline High will be permitted to work on primary source materials at the Harvard Law Library.

Previously only "PhD's, people writing books, and a few serious undergraduates" have been allowed to use the Harvard Law Library, explained Erika Chadbourn, curator of manuscripts and documents at Harvard. "We've never had high school students before Brookline's acquisition resulted from the efforts of Alan Stoskopf, a social studies and law teacher at the high school. Stoskopf intends, by exposing his students to research material, to "demystify" academic research. Stoskopf discusses the "historical context" as well as the "legal complexities" of a case, and encourages his students to draw their own conclusions after looking at original historical documents.

Stoskopf hopes to enlarge the archive collection by acquiring papers regarding other landmark law cases.

Brookline's research archive will also be available to adults, through the Adult and Community Education Program, explained program supervisor Linda Larson.

Pierce Students Share Novelist's 'Quest for Excellence'

Every child dreams of sitting down with the author of her favorite book and asking him how and why he wrote it the way he did. Sixth, seventh, and eighth graders at Pierce had this opportunity on Nov. 17 when novelist Robert Cormier visited their school. Cormier, a Leominster, Mass. newspaperman, has written eight novels and several volumes of short stories.

After addressing the students in the school auditorium, Cormier discussed his work with a group of students and teachers in the Pierce Library. Following the discussion, eighth grader Jonathan Bing said, "When I read his book, After the First Death, I didn't enjoy it, because it was destructive and sad. But now, after hearing him talk, I understand the whole idea behind it. He felt drained after writing it, and he wanted the reader to feel drained after reading it."

Cormier visited Pierce as part of the Quest for Excellence Program, which was started by principal Al Fortune. The program brings "people who have made some important contribution in their field" to speak to Pierce's upper grades, according to librarian Hanna Zeiger. "Students are encouraged to seek excellence by seeing these speakers as models."

Heath School Reaches Out

In an effort to reach out to the larger community, Heath School held a Service Day in December. The 360 students and 50 parents and teachers fashioned gifts and cards for handicapped and homeless youngsters and elderly people in nearby nursing homes. A chorus of 100 Heath students, under the direction of Sandy Niccolucci, sang at the Park-Marion Nursing Home in Brookline. And a group of seventh and second graders made and delivered a large cake to celebrate the 100th birthdays of two residents of the Elm Hill Nursing Home in Roxbury.

"The students' goal was to make something to give to someone else," explained kindergarten and first grade teacher Nancy Pribish. "The best thing about Service Day was the combining of grade levels. Each child listened to his or her partner."

Lawrence Feast Teaches Sharing

On the day before Thanksgiving, Lawrence School first and second graders, their parents, and teachers, dressed as American Indians and Pilgrims, feasted on cranberry sauce, vegetable soup, corn and nut breads, fresh butter, and sweet potato and pumpkin pies that they had made. The eleventh annual Lawrence Thanksgiving Feast was the result of several weeks of shopping, cooking, making decorations and costumes, and learning songs.

The annual feast teaches the children about "sharing and giving," said first grade teacher Beth Bankler. In that spirit, several of the children brought the leftover food to a nearby nursing home after the feast.

Special Programs Funded by Grants: Understanding Handicaps

One out of every nine students in the Brookline schools is handicapped. There are few classes in Brookline that do not include a physically, mentally, or learning disabled child. As a result, the Brookline schools have started an Understanding Handicaps Project at the Baker School, a series of workshops and lectures for parents, children, and teachers. The federally-funded project was developed at a school in Rhode Island and has been successful in several Massachusetts towns. It involves classes on blindness, deafness, orthopedic handicaps, and mental retardation, and is intended to promote understanding and acceptance between handicapped and non-handicapped people.

Poet-In-Residence

Judith Steinbergh, who has given poetry readings and concerts with musician Victor Cockburn at several town elementary schools, has served as poet-in-residence at the Pierce School this year. Steinbergh has taught poetry and writing in Massachusetts communities since 1970, and is presently funded by a grant from the Artists' Foundation.

Students Explore Native American Culture

Together with their peers from two Boston schools, fourth graders at Devotion spent much of the fall and winter of 1981 studying Native American culture. Funded under the state's voluntary Desegregation Act (Ch. 636), teachers from the Loon and Heron Theatre for Children introduced the students to Native American music, dance, dramatized myth, crafts, and storytelling. In the spring of 1982 the program moved to Runkle.

Alcohol Education

Brookline Alcohol Safety Education (BASE) continues to encourage awareness and debunk myths about alcohol at the high school. A main goal of the state-funded project is "to reduce the number of highway fatalities and disabilities due to alcohol," explained coordinator Faye Gordon. In the spring of 1982 BASE began to offer workshops at the elementary schools. BASE has received broad media support, including coverage by Channel 4 Evening News and Evening Magazine.

Retirements:

Superintendent Robert I. Sperber will retire in June, 1982 after 18 years in the Brookline schools.

Deputy Superintendent Ferdy J. Tagle, Jr., will retire in June 1982 after 17 years in the Brookline schools.

Francis W. McKenzie, Coordinator of Pupil Support Services, will retire in June 1982 after 15 years in the Brookline schools.

Virginia Seavey, Chairperson for Psychological and Remedial Services, retired in June 1981 after 41 years in the Brookline schools.

Public Library

Organization of the Board

At their regular Board meeting in April, the Library Trustees elected Martha G. Edmondson, Chairman of the Board. Jonathan S. Fine was elected Treasurer and Emilie L. Drooker, Secretary.

The Chairman appointed the following Trustees as chairmen of the Standing Committees: Finance Committee, Emilie L. Drooker; Library Committee, H. Richard Tyler; Building Committee, Phyllis W. Podren.

The Board held ten regular meetings, five special meetings and one emergency meeting. One meeting at each of the three Libraries was expressly designated as an opportunity for the public to voice their comments and suggestions on library service in the face of Proposition 2½ reductions in funds. At the April meeting a petition was presented to the Chairman of the Board in behalf of the citizens of Brookline protesting the proposed cuts. It read:

"We, the citizens of Brookline, would like to state that a 20% cut in the budget will not provide sufficient funds to maintain a quality library system. The library services are part of the educational system and should be treated as such. By cutting the library's budget so drastically you would be hurting the citizens of Brookline severely. The libraries offer very important services to their communities. They give students a quiet place to study and provide resources not available to them elsewhere. They give the elderly a safe place to come during the day to read a newspaper, pick up some books, see a film and chat with friends. They give parents a friendly place to bring their children for story hours, films and records. For all, it's a special place to enjoy. Please do not allow this important community resource to be destroyed."

The petition was signed by 1100 Brookline citizens whose signatures were obtained by Adam and David Weinstein and Andrea Lee, residents of the Town.

On June 15, 1981, Town meeting voted "To authorize and empower the Library Trustees to elect a Treasurer from their own number, in accordance with General Laws, c 78 S 10, whose duties shall include the collection, management and control of library trust funds and who shall give a bond in an amount and with sureties to the satisfaction of the Board of Selectmen." This change was effected in order to assign responsibility for the management of trust funds to the Trustees. Plans for the transfer of the funds are now underway.

Budget-related activity consumed the major part of Trustee time and effort in 1981. In addition to dealing with the necessity to reduce costs and services required by Proposition 2½, Trustees and the Town Librarian attended many meetings about the budget with other town boards and committees. The Trustees Library Committee reviewed the book selection policy, the effectiveness of the book security system at the Main Library and the Rules and Regulations of the Library. The Trustees Building Committee continued its supervision of the maintenance of the Library and especially the garden at the Main Library. In accordance with a policy established several years ago further energy conservation measures are being installed in all the libraries.

On October 6, 1981, His Excellency, Governor Edward J. King of Massachusetts appointed Martha G. Edmondson to the state Board of Library Commissioners. Among other responsibilities, this Board fosters and oversees the development of public library service in Massachusetts.

Friends of the Brookline Public Library

Over three hundred people joined this newly-founded organization. Its first project was the Sixth Annual Book Sale, formerly organized by the library staff. Proceeds were the largest ever, a total of $5,137.00. The role of volunteers to assist in the implementation of library service is being studied by the Friends the staff and trustees. Officers of the Friends of the Brookline Public Library in 1981 were: President, Sandra Bakalar; Vice-President, Helen Kamin; Treasurer, Mollie Wiellette; Clerk, Karen Rizika; Corresponding Secretary, Esther Felix; Chairman, membership, Susan Fiscoeder. Nancy Hurlbut served as Trustee liaison.

Library Collection

The library collection now totals 368,449 volumes. Of these volumes 11% are juvenile, 18% are fiction and 71% are non-fiction. Of the new books selected for purchase by the staff, 19% were juvenile, 26% were fiction and 55% were non-fiction. In addition, 2,778 books were received as gifts. Eight titles had reserve lists of over fifty, requiring purchase of additional copies. Library holdings include 9,776 phonograph records, cassettes, Brookline newspapers on microfilm, Brookline photographs. There are pamphlets, periodicals, business and investment services. The Library continues to serve as a depository for U.S. Government Documents. Both inflation and the reduction of budget funds for library materials forced a drop in the number of books, periodicals and phonograph records purchased. Damaging gaps in the collection due to this stringency will become more evident in future years when many books citizens are seeking will not be available. Modern publishing policies make it generally impossible to purchase these volumes in later years.

Library Usage

Despite the decrease in hours of service in the latter half of the year, the 1981 total circulation of library materials was 516,833. Lines formed at the desks when the Library was open, and a book was circulated every 20 seconds. There were over 30,000 registered borrowers. Circulation of library items represents only a portion of service. There were 110,000 requests for library service at the Main Library reference desks, a 10% increase over 1980. Reference questions were various: an anatomy of a cat's heart; picture of a saxophone; how the electoral college works; number of cars stolen in Massachusetts.

The Film Classics program continued successfully at the Main Library the first half of the year, but was discontinued in the fall, due to lack of staff time. Senior Cinema at the Coolidge Corner Library was held year round, but the Senior Specials at the Putterham Library had to be dropped in the fall. Resumption of this program is planned for January, 1982. The Young Adult Film program has been maintained throughout the year.

The Brookline Library Music Association held six concerts. In honor of thirty years of association with the Library, the Brookline Art Society graciously presented a glass exhibit case to the Trustees. The Saturday morning workshop of this Society was discontinued because of pressure on staff time.

A number of service cuts were necessitated by loss of operating funds. Duplicate copies for reserved books were reduced by one-half. The formerly daily delivery service was cut to twice weekly for Coolidge Corner Library and once weekly for Putterham Library. Telephone reference service on Sundays was eliminated. The searching of shelves for books requested by telephone is no longer provided. Book renewals were suspended.

Amnesty Week

In January, 1981, an Amnesty Week was announced, the first such week since 1973. 450 library items were returned with an approximate value of $4,000.

Library Service to Children

The Children's Rooms provide readers with advisory and reference service, circulate books and are centers for parents and pre-schoolers, day care teachers and children, special needs children and elementary school children of all ages. Special children's programs during the year included story hours for various age groups and film programs. The children's librarians again worked on the Booklist Committee with the school librarians, teachers and parents. This year, lists were published to accommodate all-year choices for individualized reading, rather than summer reading only. These lists were well used over the summer — it seemed every child who came into the library had a list in hand. In the fall, many parents asked to use reference copies of the lists to select books for their children.

Technical Services

Detailed scrutiny of departmental budgets has focused attention on certain operations so essential that their function is taken for granted. Before any book, magazine, pamphlet or record can be placed on the shelf, the Technical Services department must order, receive, classify and catalogue it. This department is the largely unseen main artery of any library. It serves the entire system, organizing the bewildering array of hundreds of thousands of materials so that any reader may find what he is seeking. The department is also responsible for maintaining bibliographical records. It prepares books for the shelves with cards and pockets, processes gift books and withdraws and transfers materials.

The Technical Services department has instituted a series of lectures for the public on "The Use of the Catalogue." One was held at the Main Library on April 6, one at the Coolidge Corner Library on April 22 and one at the Putterham Library on May 8. There will be further lectures at the Main Library in 1982. The Head of the Brookline Public Library Technical Services Department, Irene Wilkinson, has been serving as Chairperson, Massachusetts Library Association, Technical Services Section.

State Aid to Libraries

In Fiscal Year 1982, the Town received $26,575, a direct grant of state library aid. While this money is paid directly into the Town treasury, rather than being made available to the Library, its acceptance requires adherence to certain minimum standards of hours of service and proportion of the budget expended for books.

As part of the state-aid system, the Brookline Library participates in inter-library loan, receives free films for library and organizational use, free sorting of circulation transaction cards, print-out sheets of overdue books and computerized catalogue cards. The Town Librarian has just completed two years as Chairman of the Eastern Regional Library Advisory Council, a part of the state library aid system, which had a budget of $2,500,000 for services to the library community.

Reduction of Services

The impact of Proposition 2½ was felt throughout the system. Ten full-time positions were lost. Funds for part-time staff, for books, contractual services, supplies and energy were drastically cut. The reduction in funds, coupled with inflation, resulted in a dramatic loss of library services. In addition to the service cuts mentioned previously, the reduction of hours of library operation was severe. Main Library hours were reduced from a total of 68 hours per week in September 1980, to 59 hours as of September, 1981. The Coolidge Library weekly hours were reduced from 62 to 35.5, and Putterham Library from 55.5 hours to 23.5 hours. It was necessary to eliminate Sunday hours at the Coolidge Corner Library so that personnel could be deployed at the Main Library where there was great pressure upon a reduced staff.

Another service came to a halt after fifty years. Delivery of books to the home bound was discontinued.

Future

The Library Trustees, the Staff and concerned citizens have joined together to try to provide the high level of service for which the Brookline Library is noted and to seek ways to increase funding for library service.

PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT

Planning Board — Planning Department

Organization and Function

The Planning Board is a five-member citizen committee appointed by the Board of Selectmen to serve in an advisory capacity on town planning and community development issues. Herbert Shivek serves as Chairman.

The Planning Department serves as staff for both the Planning Board and the Board of Selectmen. The Department has six full-time professional planners and is administered by Planning Director Jay Woodward, who is appointed annually by the Board of Selectmen.

The Brookline planning program continues to be recognized as one of the most advanced and effective in New England. Brookline was chosen as the site for two mobile workshops for the National Planning Conference of the American Planning Association held in

Brookline's commercial revitalization efforts highlighted for APA Conference delegation

Boston in April. The Equity Transfer Assistance Program, which had been ranked first in the nation among all HUD innovative Grants Projects last year, was also featured at the conference. In addition to Department staff members serving on a variety of local and regional task forces during 1981, Planning Board member Robert Kramer was elected President of the Boston Society of Architects, and Assistant Director Mark Eldridge was elected Vice-President of the New England Chapter of the American Planning Association.

Zoning and Development Review

The Planning Board and Department's development review function continued at an accelerated pace in 1981 as Brookline faced an unusually high level of development activity, both in new construction and major adaptive reuse projects. Unfortunately, because of economic conditions and several law suits, only a small proportion of the projects approved in recent years is actually under construction. An increasingly important function of the Planning Board and staff as part of the review process is filling the role of negotiator in working with developers and encouraging them to modify their proposals, often substantially, to address neighborhood and community concerns.

The 175 zoning cases reviewed by the Board again set a record. Included were 90 Board of Appeals cases, 32 of which involved environmental design review, 73 sign cases, and 12 cases under the revised facade design review process. These cases are handled by Senior Planners Richard Boffa and Jim White, with assistance from the Department's design consultants John Furlong, Ty Zeigler, and Jean Nilsson.

Brookline's environmental design review process, which serves as a model for other communities across the country, offers a unique opportunity for town officials and residents to work together to help shape the man-made environment. A number of the significant 1981 cases dealt with commercial properties and are discussed in more detail under "Commercial Area Planning." Major residential projects approved include condominium developments at Fisher Hill Estates on Boylston Street, 41 Centre Street, both of which are now under construction, Women's Free Hospital on Pond Avenue, 818 Heath Street, 1850 Beacon Street, and Amory Street. A major institutional project reviewed was the new Pine Manor College Field House of Woodland Road, the design of which was substantially enhanced through the design review process.

This year saw the first review of facade renovations by the Planning Board under the accelerated process

Condomonium developments under construction in 1981

similar to the accelerated sign design review process. Major facade cases included the large commercial building at the southeast corner of Washington and Beacon Streets, the building at Harvard and Babcock Streets formerly occupied by Morse's Foods and Natural Grocer, and the Gulf Station at Washington Street and Brookline Avenue. Notable sign cases included the replacement of the billboard-size sign at Recollections on Washington Street and a series of signs at 1244 Boylston Street in Chestnut Hill, completing the renovation and enlargement of the former Abbey Rents Building. As in previous years, these review processes have had a felicitous impact on the visual quality and, in turn, on the economic viability of the Town's business areas.

Community Development Block Grant

The preparation and administration of the Town's $1.5 million Community Development Block Grant remains as one of the most important work items of the Planning Department. The Department staff, particularly C.D. Administrative Planner Gail Cirillo, worked closely with Town agencies and citizen groups in preparing recommended programs and providing staff support to the CPR Committee on Community Development. The task was particularly challenging this year as Brookline suffered a 19% cutback in C.D. funding due to revised population figures. This decrease was the largest percentage cutback in the nation.

The C.D. funds are used to implement a variety of neighborhood and commercial area improvement activities as well as to provide services such as youth employment and day care for low and moderate income families. A major aspect of the Department's work is providing overall coordination and technical assistance for the twenty-three programs and activities funded by the Town's Block Grant.

Commercial Area Planning

The Department's emphasis on commercial area revitalization continued throughout the year.

Coolidge Corner: The renewed enthusiasm for this commercial area which has followed the completion of the Coolidge Corner Improvement Plan last year can be seen in the new stores, new signs and facades, and new housing developments under construction, as well as in the continuation of special activities such as the Coolidge Corner Arts Festival and the Farmers' Market. The $6.5 million office/retail complex proposed for the Gulf site on Beacon Street received Board of Appeals approval during 1981 with construction expected to commence in the spring of 1982.

Commonwealth Avenue: A number of significant changes occurred along this commercial strip during 1981. A Commercial Area Revitalization District Plan (CARD) was prepared by C.D. Planner Gail Lewis and subsequently approved by the Commonwealth. This designation, which provides special financing incentives, has already attracted significant investment to this area, including the adaptive reuse of the Atamian Ford property for a research and light assembly facility, the conversion of an automobile garage on Dummer Street to a television production studio, and the adaptive reuse of the Porsche-Audi property for a computer service and office facility. The most significant proposal in recent years for the Commonwealth Avenue area, a $20 million Dunfey Hotel proposed for the Cadillac-Olds property, was terminated as a result of litigation.

Brookline Village: The most significant events in the Village commercial area during the year included: the dedication of the new Station Street improvements; purchase of the Kent Street property from the VFW for use as a 52-car parking facility for merchants, employees, and neighborhood residents; and the detailed planning for an Urban Systems project along Washington Street. These projects were the result of the combined efforts of the Brookline Village CRC, the Redevelopment Authority, and Planning Department, on Harvard Street to an attractive restaurant. The Department also continued its work in conjunction with the Redevelopment Authority on the proposed commercial development of the B-2 Parcel.

Washington Square: By year's end, the construction of the second and third phases of the Washington Square public improvements program was nearing completion, funded by CDBG funds. A revision to the Washington Square CARD Plan was also approved by the Commonwealth, which will encourage the adaptive reuse of the Avigdor Rug property for a medical computer service facility.

Equity Transfer Assistance Program

The Equity Transfer Assistance (ETA) Program continued in operation funded by a $642,000 Innovative Projects Grant obtained by the Planning Department from HUD. The program, which provides downpayment or equity assistance to low and moderate income tenants who wish to purchase their apartments, is operated by the Brookline Improvement Coalition, a nonprofit organization devoted to furthering housing opportunities for low and moderate income households. Administered by Mark Dutka, with technical assistance provided by the Planning Department, this pilot program by year's end has helped purchase 20 condominium units, with prices ranging from $9,000 to $40,000.

Technical Services/Capital Improvements Programming

With continued reductions in town departmental budgets, the demands on the Planning Department's technical and design services have continued to escalate. In order to increase local revenues, the Board raised subdivision fees and supported new plan filing fees collected by the Building Department. As part of the Capital Improvements Program (CIP) process, all proposed capital expenditures of town departments, including those funded with federal funds, were evaluated in terms of priorities, fiscal constraints and relationships to the Comprehensive Plan. Because of this effort, the six-year CIP adopted in 1981 projected a maximum outstanding debt of $13 million, 41% below the actual outstanding debt seven years ago.

Sign design review... Brookline Village

Brookline Village merchants continued to reinforce the revitalization effort with new signs and facade renovations. Major new investment included the completion of a racquetball club facility at Cypress Street and the conversion of a severely blighted gas station

Council for Planning and Renewal

The Council participates in the formation and implementation of planning policies and development activities, promotes community awareness of these issues, and communicates citizen opinion to appropriate town agencies.

The activities of the Council are conducted by the Executive Board and the following committees: the Commercial Areas Committee deals with revitalization of the commercial areas and interaction of the merchants with neighborhood groups and town agencies; the Community Development Block Grant Committee prepares the budget recommendations for the use of Community Development funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and monitors the expenditures of these funds; the Energy Conservation Committee has the goal of stimulating awareness of energy conservation; the Membership Committee recruits new members and assists them in finding committee assignments; the Nominating Committee nominates the officers and the Executive Board; the Neighborhood Liaison Committee meets and works with neighborhood associations, fostering greater cooperation among neighborhoods and between neighborhoods and town agencies; the Planning Studies Committee has examined a number of town agencies for areas of duplication and overlap and has submitted its recommendations to the Selectmen - in the upcoming year the committee will assist the Planning Department in a review and updating of Brookline's Comprehensive Plan; and the Urban Renewal Committee acts as a liaison with the Brookline Redevelopment Authority.

Interested residents are invited to join the Council, participate on the existing committees or form new committees to study issues of interest.

Historical Commission

With the completion last year of its architectural inventory, the Historical Commission has been able to finish application for 7 districts and 58 individual buildings to be listed on the National Register of Historic Places, in addition to the 5 National Register Districts already designated. The Commission plans to submit a Multiple Resource nomination that will include all eligible buildings and districts at once.

The Historical Commission has received funds from the Community Development Block Grants program for rehabilitation facilitation: i.e., to give technical assistance to town agencies and property owners with building rehabilitation and to help with certification for federal tax incentives. The Commission has worked with architects on the Fisher Hill Estates project and reviewed plans for proposed housing at Amory and Worthington Streets and individual houses throughout the town. It has worked with the Brookline Village Citizens' Revitalization Committee on a forthcoming handbook and met with members of the School Committee about repairs to the facade of the Pierce Primary building.

Several preservation issues arose during the year, perhaps the most dramatic of which centered on a century-old house at 68 Winchester Street, threatened with demolition by developers. By mounting a strenuous publicity campaign, the Commission mustered enough public support to persuade the developers to retain the house as part of their revised plans. The Commission has followed to its successful conclusion the restoration by Boston University of a house at 25 Lenox Street as faculty housing; earlier there had been neighborhood concern about the property. The Commission has also been concerned about plans for the new Water Division facility on Netherlands Road, near the historic "Dutch House."

The Historical Commission was involved with planning the National Conference of the National Association of Olmsted Parks, held in Boston in April. Of particular local interest was Olmsted Day in Brookline, which was crowned by the dedication of the Olmsted National Park Site on Warren Street. The Commission observed National Preservation Week in May with a self-guided walking tour of old Brookline buildings that have been adapted for contemporary use. Commission members led historic walking tours in Brookline for delegates to the American Planning Association Conference, for which the Commission staff prepared a pamphlet on Victorian Brookline.

Work has been completed on a book of Walking Tours in North Brookline, which will soon be published. A booklet of Brookline Village Walking Tours done in 1977 has been reprinted and is for sale at the Planning Department. The Commission staff has contributed articles to the Newsletters of the National Association for Olmstead Parks and the Boston Preservation Alliance, and has prepared a three-page history of Brookline which is available from the Commission office.

Working with half-forgotten sources, researcher Leslie Larkin discovered that a house on White Place dates from the 17th century, making it one of the oldest in town, and showing that history can always be expanded.

Redevelopment Authority

Success in the prolonged pursuit of federal monies with which to complete the last remaining parcel in the Marsh Urban Renewal Project, the so-called B-2 parcel, marked the year 1981 for the Redevelopment Authority. And there was no change in the composition of the Board Membership of the Redevelopment Authority in 1981. Francis J. O'Boy is Chairman, Thomas J. Dillon Vice Chairman, Stanley Zoll Treasurer, Louis J. Scorziello, State appointed member is Assistant Treasurer and John J. Doherty is Clerk. Francis J. Hickey is Administrator, Naomi S. McShea Assistant Administrator and Bernard S. Kaplan General Counsel. Also the work of the Authority with the Brookline Village Citizens Revitalization Committee began to show noticeable results.

In the first week of July the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development announced that it had given initial approval to the Town of Brookline's application for an Urban Development Action Grant for $1,855,000. During August the Authority contracted for the services of a professional engineering firm to do land surveys for acquisition and disposition of property, an attorney for land title research, two real estate appraisers and a land acquisition negotiator. Preliminary notices of acquisition were sent to affected land owners. Concurrent with this activity by the Authority, the Board of Selectmen established a UDAG Coordinating Committee composed of Board of Selectmen Chairman Robert Stein and Selectman Stephen Goldenberg, BRA representative Louis Scorziello, Chairman Herbert L. Shivek of the Planning Board and Staff representatives. Mark Eldridge Assistant Planning Director and Naomi McShea, Assistant Administrator of the Redevelopment Authority were appointed Coordinators for Project Activity.

On November 10, 1981, the Redevelopment Authority voted to acquire the remaining properties (i.e. those not in Authority ownership) by eminent domain taking. The taking was entered in the records of the Register of Deeds for Norfolk County on November 13th. Following this event, a Relocation office was opened on the B-2 site at 87 Washington Street and the relocation process began. The first tenant in the project area was relocated in December.

As December drew to a close some residents joined in with certain affected businesses in the area to object to the construction of a hotel and the planning of the project in two segments with the hotel coming first and office, retail second. This last minute effort to overturn a development concept originally endorsed by the Central Village Neighborhood Association was a surprise. No organized objection had been voiced since the 1978 choice of the hotel, office building, retail use for the project B-2 parcel.

During 1981 the BRA continued to support the work of the Brookline Village Citizens Revitalization Committee in its continuing program for the revitalization of Brookline Village. The major problem of the retail merchants, that is parking, was addressed in a practical way by the adoption of town by-laws allowing permit parking at designated meters in certain areas and the installation of long term parking meters. The town also purchased the VFW land on Kent Street and Andem Place so that an off-street public parking lot could be created. The Victorian ambiance of the Village was enhanced by the installation of 1880's gas lamp type electric illumination of Station Street on the MBTA Green Line Village Station. The Brookline Village Merchants Association has also been revitalized and strengthened by the efforts of the BVCRC. The completion of a financing alternatives study recommended a financial program for the merchants. The Committee and Merchants are working with the State's Executive Office of Communities and Development and the BRA to form a Local Development Corporation (LDC) and to select projects for financial assistance.

As previously reported, Brookline Village has already been designated as a CARD, through the efforts of the BRA, thus qualifying for tax exempt financing for the rehabilitation of existing structures or new construction. The B-2 Parcel and the "Island" in the Marsh Project won similar CARD designation by the Commonwealth. Brookline Ice & Coal Company has used this financing mechanism to construct their new facility on Brookline Avenue, another BRA sponsored addition to Brookline's tax base.

Housing Authority

Total Units — All Programs 1272

Social Services

The Brookline Housing Authority works closely with agencies of the town in an effort to acquaint its tenants with services available to them. Through contract with the Brookline Association for Mental Health, the Authority provides for tenant-related needs. Tenants assisted under the Section 8 and State Rental Assistance Programs are made aware of services to all citizens of the town.

Subsidies, Modernization, New Programs

The Authority's fiscal agent received $122,000 from the Commonwealth for its State Family 200-C developments as debt service subsidy and $150,155 as Operating Subsidy have been committed for the fiscal year ending 3/31/82. Subsidy of $50,336 has been committed for the State Elderly 667-1 development and $92,908 for the 705-1 Trustman Apartments. 137 Units of Chapter 707 Rental Assistance are allocated with an annual contribution of $228,845. Operating subsidy of $478,911 for the Federal units has been committed.

The Section 8 Housing Assistance Program has 215 of its approved 285 units under lease with a total Annual Contribution of $1,032,396 approved for this Program.

The Contract for the construction of 39 units of Housing for the Elderly and Handicapped at 190 Harvard Street will be completed in the spring of 1982. This building has been named in honor of the late John W. Kickham.

The Authority paid to the town as Payment in Lieu of Taxes $25,974 for its Federal Programs as of 3/31/81 and $10,480 for its State 200-C Programs. The annual payment of $30,000 was made for the Trustman Apartments in December, 1981.

The Authority had performed ninety percent of the work toward fulfillment of its Energy Conservation Grant Program as of 12/31/81. Improvements include decentralization of boiler plants and insulation at the High and Egmont Street developments and thermopane windows at High Street. These improvements were made possible by grants of $1,705,000 from the Executive Office of Energy Resources and $175,000 from the Executive Office of Communities and Development.

Under a new program of the Commonwealth the Authority purchased two condominium units. This secured the homes of the elderly residents who had resided in them for many years as tenants.

Modernization programs continue for the benefit, health and safety of tenants and for energy savings and conservation. CDBG funds will be utilized in the best interest of the tenants and the Authority.

Building Commission

In 1981, despite the effect of Proposition 2½ on the Town's capital expenditures program, work proceeded on the renovations to the Manual Training Building, Downes Field, Cypress Playground, Devotion School, and Relocation of the Department of Public Works Water Division.

The Town Meeting voted funds to convert the Manual Training Building, built in 1901, to a Unified Arts Facility. A new floor of approximately 11,000 sq. ft. was added at the attic level to provide for studio space in the same structure as the other visual and industrial arts. The existing three floors were renovated including installation of a new electric service for a construction cost of approximately $800,000 (a low construction cost of $20 per sq. ft.). The total project cost is $990,000 including fees, administration, testing, and bidding costs. The project is scheduled for completion in January, 1982.

The final phase of the work at Downes Field was completed. Work at Cypress Playground entered its final phase and was available for recreational activities by mid-Summer. Both Downes Field and Cypress Playground field have been receiving very heavy use by the town's people and Cypress Playground was rated by the Boston Globe as one of the best municipal playgrounds in the metropolitan area.

The ventilation modifications to the 1952 Wing at Devotion School have been completed. Measurements in that Wing indicated a marked improvement in the mechanical environment noting temperatures of ambient outside air level, or better, depending on location.

Planning for the relocation of the Department of Public Works Water Division continued and a task force composed of representatives of the Using Agency, Planning Department, and Building Commission, with the assistance of the Architect, revised and updated the 1980 Feasibility Study and, at the request of the Selectmen, considered three additional sites. By year's end, the Board of Selectmen had accepted the task force's recommendation to rehabilitate existing Town facilities on Netherlands Road to house the relocated Water Division and to centralize the Park Division at Larz Anderson Park to allow the development of the B2 Parcel in Brookline Village. Work is proceeding on the rehabilitation project with construction scheduled for summer and fall for occupancy in winter, 1982.

Total valuation of projects administered by the Commission exceeded $3,000,000 with the assistance for funding provided by the Federal government through Community Development Block Grants and the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service Grants, and the State government through the School Building Assistance Bureau.

The Building Commission on behalf of the town wishes to thank the agencies assisting us in funding these projects and the interested citizens and staff that have provided input and assistance in the administration of the town's building program.

Board of Appeals

The Board of Appeals held 89 Hearings during 1981. Several large proposals were considered during the year and petitioners took advantage of the Appeal period in some instances, tying the decisions of the Board up in Court.

Health Department

Health Department

1981 was a significant year for the delivery of local health services in Brookline. In the first year under Proposition 2½, a budget cut of 25% was added to the reductions of the past several years of "level funding." As a result, the resources available for local public health were at the lowest level in recent decades. The loss of staff and funds for contractual services made it necessary in 1981 to focus on priority needs and to streamline operations. Increased charges for various health licenses and permits and the introduction of the "fee-for-service" concept were necessary measures to avoid further curtailment of health services.

A basic decision, made by the Health Department and endorsed by the Advisory Council of Public Health, was to continue all basic programs and services by spreading necessary reductions across the entire budget and by adjusting the scope or frequency of services to a level which could be supported by available resources.

While "add-backs" voted at Special Town Meetings during the summer months restored some of the initial budget cuts, the past year found the Health Department working within tight constraints. This report will cite some of the highlights in the "Year of Proposition 2½."

Environmental Health

The emphasis of this program was focused on maintaining inspectional services in housing, restaurant and food store sanitation, solid waste disposal, insect and rodent control, day care centers, swimming pools, and other recreation and commercial facilities. The housing code enforcement program responded to the same number of complaints as in the previous year, with the issuance of nearly 400 Order Letters and the use of Court actions as necessary to gain compliance with the State Sanitary Code. Special efforts were made to resolve a number of isolated but long-standing conditions which had previously consumed many hours of effort.

Two significant outbreaks of foodborne illness were investigated and steps taken to prevent similar occurrences. While it is not known that these outbreaks were related to the reduced frequency of inspection, the incidents demonstrate the importance of close supervision of food service operations.

An important area of consumer protection is the sealing of weights and measures. Scales, gasoline and fuel delivery pumps, taximeters, and other measuring and metering devices are subject to inspection, testing and sealing. In addition to routine inspections, the Department also responds to complaints in which consumers believe they may be victims of unfair transactions.

Child Health Services

A series of programs and services are directed toward safeguarding the health of "Children-at-Risk." Health consultation for newborns, attendance at the Child Health Conferences, and continuing guidance on child health through the Nurse Practitioner's Call Hour and by referral to other agencies are among the services offered.

More than 400 children attending day care centers received Vision and Hearing Screening tests. Where deficiencies were found or suspected (approx. 15%) the parents were urged to take the child for medical evaluation.

For the first time, a health services fee has been established to partially offset the cost of providing school health services to three parochial schools.

Dental Health

The scheduled phase-out of the financial support of the Dental Clinic was accelerated and the Clinic became self-supporting in July of 1981. The Health Department continues to provide a dental screening program in which pre-school and school children are given dental examinations. One-half of the four thousand children examined were referred for treatment.

Dental inspection and counseling was also provided to handicapped and special needs children and to senior citizens. A plaque control program and home visits for the elderly home-bound persons were also made available.

Employee Health

An employee health program becomes relatively more important with budget imposed reductions in the town's work force. Fewer employees leads to increased work demands on those remaining and an increase in the average age of municipal workers may result from layoffs which tend to involve employees with less seniority. The reduced availability of services, through a half-time Employee Health Clinic and the part-time services of an Occupational Health Physician provided by the Personnel Department, cannot adequately maintain an effective program.

Substance Abuse

The Substance Abuse Program is an important element in the network of community programs seeking to combat the abuse of alcohol and drugs. Periods of adverse economic conditions generally lead to increased stress in the community at a time when there may be an overall shrinkage in the resources available to provide basic support services. An increased need was apparent in 1981 with more clients seeking counseling, referral, or other assistance. Similarly, there was an increase in the volume of inquiries from employers, family members, community leaders, and others seeking information dealing with substance abuse.

In addition to crisis intervention or assistance to specific individuals or families affected by substance abuse, there is a need for a substantially increased level of community education. Additional resources will be necessary to support an effective community-wide campaign to prevent the destructive effects of alcohol and drug abuse.

The Coming Year

At the close of 1981, the outlook did not hold great promise that resources for local public health would be substantially improved in 1982. In fact, it seemed likely that resources would be even more limited. The Health Department's commitment to the community remains undiminished however, and every effort will be made to deliver the highest possible level of quality service.

Human Relations- Youth Resources Commission

1981 reflected a year of perseverance on the part of Human Relations-Youth Resources to provide services to the people of Brookline in the face of decreased financial resources.

The Commission re-elected Elizabeth S. Pollock as Chairman and Richard D. Rand as Vice-Chairman. Agnes M. Rogers was named co-Vice-Chairman. Three new members were appointed: Sandra Bakalar, Christopher Crowley and Tara Martin. New associate members were Robert McCain and Howard Prunty.

Two new committees were created: one dealing with human relations programming on Cable TV, and a second to organize the granting of an annual human relations award. Aside from committee sessions, the Commission held ten staff-assisted meetings during 1981. In 1981 the full-time staff included the Director, Assistant Director and Secretary, while the part-time staff included a Jobs for Youth Coordinator, Youth Worker and seasonal interns.

Human Relations-Affirmative Action

The Director serves as Brookline's Affirmative Action Officer, Fair Housing Officer and Minority Business Enterprise Officer. In the course of implementing the town's Affirmative Action programs, the Director held numerous meetings with department heads and other departmental staff as well as with federal and state equal opportunity compliance officers. Commission staff prepared Affirmative Action compliance reports for the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), and the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD). The Director met with staff from the State Office of Minority Business Assistance and the Contract Compliance Division of the MCAD in an effort to prepare a Women/Minority Business Enterprise Affirmative Action Plan. This plan, as well as a Supplemental Equal Employment Opportunity Anti-Discrimination and Affirmative Action Program, was adopted by the Board of Selectmen in September. Satisfactory Affirmative Action compliance had a direct role in enabling Brookline to receive $1.1 million in Federal Revenue Sharing funds, $1.3 million in HUD Community Development funds, and $6.6 million in State funds.

In the area of equal opportunity, religious discrimination was again an issue with complaints registered by Brookline residents against area hospitals, a bank, the U.S. Postal Service, a college, and a national testing service. Investigations were also initiated in several instances of possible housing discrimination. In February, the Director moderated a panel at Boston University Law School on "The Role of the Community" at a conference on racial and religious violence sponsored by the Anti-Defamation League and co-sponsored by the Commission.

In the spring, at the direction of the Board of Selectmen, the Director served on a committee under the aegis of the MCAD, the purpose of which was to study the impact of Prop. 2½ on municipal affirmative action programs statewide. The Director also served as Vice-Chairman of the MCAD Boston Area Advisory Council.

The Director continued to represent Brookline on the Norwood-Newton CETA Area Manpower Planning Board and served as Chairman of the Youth Activities Council. Although CETA funds were diminished extensively during 1981, the summer work program in Brookline was not seriously affected.

The staff worked directly, and with area mental health, social service, and legal assistance agencies, in an attempt to assist Brookline residents with their problems. In November, the local press focused on this aspect of our work.

During the summer, the Commission took an active stance in a school committee controversy over whether or not to hold classes on the Jewish High Holidays or on Good Friday. The Commission voted unanimously that classes should not be held on those days. Also, the Commission expressed concern that an extended February school vacation would pose a hardship for many families and cautioned the school committee to reconsider having a two-week break.

At the request of residents concerned that reduced educational funding would impact adversely on children with special needs, the Director became a member of the Special Education Advisory Committee as an advocate for these students. Throughout the year the Director and Assistant Director consulted with School officials on matters centering on race relations and delinquency prevention in Brookline schools. To address these matters, especially at the High School, the Director was invited to participate on the Emergency School Assistance Act Advisory Board.

In October, the Commission was listed in a United Community Planning Corporation (U.C.P.C.) "Directory of Community-Wide Agencies that Provide Services Concerned With Racism in Boston." Commission members and staff were interviewed for a U.C.P.C. paper: "Racism in Boston: Perspectives on the Racial Situation as Offered by the Leadership of Community-Wide Organizations Concerned with Racism."

Youth Affairs

The Youth Affairs component of the Human-Relations-Youth Resources Commission is administered by the Assistant Director and puts great emphasis on preventive programming. Youth employment is a major part of the programming. During 1981, the Commission employed or found employment for 1,049 of the town's youth. This includes summer and in-school jobs funded through the HUD sponsored Community Development Block Grant (CDA), summer and after school jobs funded through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), and part-and full-time private sector jobs (Jobs for Youth). Youths in the public sector programs work in town departments and for private non-profit agencies.

A second component of the Commission's preventive programming is youth counselling. The Commission maintains a close working relationship with - and makes referrals to and receives referrals from - area mental health, social service and juvenile justice agencies. The Assistant Director has had extensive counselling sessions with troubled youth on matters such as employment, family, school, and court-related problems.

The third component is the Youth Worker Intern program. Due to teenage vandalism and acting-out in our parks and playgrounds, the Commission each summer hires college age youths to supervise teenage activities in Brookline parks and playgrounds in the evenings. This program is teamed with the Park-Police Intern Program, administered by the Brookline Police. These two programs are coordinated by the Assistant Director of Human Relations-Youth Resources. The Human Relations-Youth Resources Commission and the Police Department have a joint policy statement concerning public safety in the parks and playgrounds.

The Assistant Director is a consultant to the Brookline Extended Day Care for Youths Program, the CETA Summer Youth Employment Program, and to the Brookline Probation Department. He is a member of the Brookline Public Schools Human Relations Advisory Committee and the Occupational Educational Committee. The Assistant Director investigates community relations problems as assigned by the Director of Human Relations-Youth Resources and the Board of Selectmen. He serves as a consultant to local government agencies in matters of youth employment, licensing and public safety.

Council on Aging

The Brookline Council on Aging is composed of 6 statutory representatives of town departments, 11 citizen members, and 15 associate members; members are appointed by the Board of Selectmen. The Council is responsible for community planning and program development of services to older people within the town.

The Council operates 5 neighborhood-based Multi-Service Senior Centers, where older people may find information and referral and counseling services, nutrition programs, and educational and recreational activities. The nutrition programs, three of which are sponsored by West Suburban Elder Services, serve hot lunches in a congenial setting. West Suburban Elder Services, which administers federally funded services to the elderly in our area, also provides Home Care and Homemaker services in Brookline and maintains a Job Bank at the Devotion School.

A transportation mainstay for Brookline elders is the Elderbus, which follows a route that includes housing, shopping and hospital areas. The bus is jointly funded by the town and the federal government, and this year also received some state money. The town and the Red Cab Company sponsor an Eldercab for transportation to medical appointments.

The Council on Aging cooperates with public and private agencies in planning programs for older people. The Brookline Health Department provides blood pressure screenings and immunization clinics, and the Adult Education Division of the School Department designs some courses especially for seniors. This year, for the first time, a small charge has been made to the elderly for these services because of budget constraints. Some state funding has been received for scholarships to older people in adult education classes. The Brookline Library continues to offer senior cinema programs, although on a somewhat restricted basis.

Special programs for the elderly this year have concerned health and education. An October drive to register people for Senior ID and Vial-Of-Life cards was conducted in supermarkets and housing sites, resulting in over 100 new registrants. The Boston University School of Dentistry presented dental health education programs, and Brookline elders participated in "Operation Bright Eyes," sponsored by the Massachusetts Association for the Prevention of Blindness. Sessions of Boston University's Evergreen College for older people were held at the Devotion School, as were a Candidates' Afternoon sponsored by the League of Women Voters and an annual forum given by West Suburban Elder Services to determine the needs of elders in the community. A law-education course was presented by Boston College School of Law and a crime-prevention seminar was held with B'nai B'rith.

A grant received jointly with the Brookline Mental Health Association concluded this year with the writing of a manual on legal protective services for the elderly and promise of volunteers from the Brookline Rotary Club and the Bar Association to further the work begun.

Veterans' Services

The year 1981 saw a drastic change in the Department of Veterans Services.

Proposition 2½ which became effective on July 1, resulted in a twenty-seven percent (27%) reduction below the appropriation for fiscal 1981 or $56,057. This major reduction eliminated for the time being the position of Assistant Director, severely reduced the appropriation for Memorial Day 1982, and sharply cut the contractual and supply accounts.

It has been almost impossible to give the services previously rendered and expected by the citizens of the town due to this cutback.

This year, as in every year, full advantage was taken of the many benefits provided by the Veterans Administration. Our proximity to the Boston Veterans Administration Hospital and Clinic resulted in major savings to the town.

Close and friendly cooperation with the local Social Security Office in processing Social Security and Supplemental Security Income applications has been profitable to the town.

The Department of Veterans Services is mandated under Chapter 115 of the General Laws of Massachusetts to provide financial assistance for Veterans and their dependents who are in needy circumstances, and served our Country honorably during a period of conflict. Each applicant is treated courteously and his request for assistance expeditiously processed.

In many instances other sources of income, such as Workmen's Compensation, Disability Retirement and Veterans Administration Pensions may be in process or applied for at the time of Veterans Benefits application. In such instances an assignment or agreement to reimburse is made out. This has been most successful.

In keeping with a tradition started after the Civil War, all Veterans' graves located in Brookline Cemeteries were appropriately decorated with an American Flag. Memorial Services were held at Temple Ohabei Shalom on May 22 and the Memorial Day Parade and Exercises on May 25, a day on which we commemorated the valued deeds of all Veterans with particular honor for those who died for their Country.

Rent Control Board

In FY-1981, the Rent Control Board experienced a 19.2% overall increase in the number of cases filed. This was directly attributable to the additional workload created as a result of the "removal permit" amendments adopted by Town Meeting in 1980. The number of landlord petitions filed in FY-1981 increased by 63.1% but the number of applications for certificates of eviction filed based on nonpayment of rent decreased by 35.6%. Overall, the Board dealt with over 1000 cases in FY-1981.

The year began with the implementation of the 1981 general adjustment of 7.2% for oil-heated buildings and 3.5% for gas-heated buildings and ended with the Board adoption of a 1982 general adjustment, effective January 1, 1982, of 10.6% for oil-heated buildings and 8.7% for gas-heated buildings. In addition to these percentage increases, the new rents also included trash collection fees and one dollar per month annual unit registration fees.

The Board adopted several significant regulations during the year: (1) On March 31, 1981 the Board adopted Regulation 32 allowing landlords rent increases for the installation of smoke detectors, which are now required by law in all multi-family dwellings.

The Board established shortform petition procedures to enable the landlord to petition the Board for the appropriate increase. (2) The Board promulgated Regulation 33 strictly limiting requests for reconsideration of Board decisions only in those instances where there was an alleged error of calculation or a typographical error. This regulation had the effect of reducing the Board and staff time spent on cases which had already been decided. (3) The Board adopted a comprehensive regulation, Regulation 34, on the setting of initial maximum rents for newly registered units. The main feature of this new regulation is the provision allowing the initial maximum rent for a unit formerly occupied by an owner-occupant to be the rent charged the first occupant who occupies in an arm's length transaction after it has been vacated by the owner-occupant if the owner-occupant occupied the unit as his principal place of residence for at least twenty-four consecutive months. (4) The Board voted Regulation 35 requiring every owner of a rent-controlled unit to pay the Town of Brookline an annual unit registration fee of $12 per unit per year. The potential revenue to be raised is estimated to be around $100,000. The Regulation also provides for passing the unit registration fee onto the tenant in the amount of a $1 per month rent increase.

The Board published a policy and opinion manual in 1981 setting forth all of the Board's policy votes, statutory interpretations and opinions currently in effect since 1971. This manual is not only for aiding Board and staff members but is also available for a fee to assist members of the public.

Town Meeting adopted additional amendments to the rent and eviction control by-law in 1981, the most significant being the exemption from rent control of single-family homes (including condominiums) if they were owner-occupied for two consecutive years prior to application. This exemption applies to only one unit owned by the applicant and terminates upon sale of the property.

During the year the Board held a public hearing at the request of the Brookline Property Owners Association to consider the adoption of an emergency general adjustment based on increased energy costs. After listening to the testimony of the witnesses the Board concluded that such a general adjustment was not warranted so soon after the implementation of the 1981 general adjustment.

The Board's primary goals for 1982 are (1) to promulgate a new regulation on standards for rent adjustments and (2) to work with Town officials in trying to resolve the problems it faces in the administration of the "removal permit" provisions.

FINANCE

Board of Assessors

The Assessor's Office has been a very busy office during 1981. We completed our in-house re-assessment program on the residential portion of the project with these valuations certified by the Department of Revenue. We expect to complete the project during January and February of 1982 with again the Department of Revenue giving their approval on the new valuations for the multi-family units and the commercial properties.

The residential portion as approved consists of approximately 4300 single family homes, 1350 two-family homes, 750 three-family homes and 3000 condominiums for an estimated gross valuation of $1,100,000,000. We estimate the gross valuation from all real estate and personal property will be approximately $1,600,000,000.

Our schedule calls for the mailing of impact notices around the first of March on the residential portion and first of April on the multi-family and commercial portion with the tax bills being mailed around the first of May.

The Board of Assessors consists of Francis E. Ryan, Chairman, George F. McNeilly and Joseph L. Eckert as Members. Vinson T. Rasta, our former Assistant Assessor resigned in August of 1981 to enter the private sector. We wish him well as he was a valued employee of the Assessor's Office.

The comparative amounts to be raised and appropriated as well as receipts and available funds are omitted from the report this year as these figures are not available as of the end of the year 1981.

Comptroller

The objectives of the Comptroller's Office are to provide current, accurate financial management information to the Board of Selectmen and to other town departments, agencies and boards; insure compliance with applicable provisions of the General Laws of the Commonwealth as they relate to fiscal affairs; provide required financial data to the Commonwealth, Federal Government, and other government-related agencies; develop and review, as necessary, the financial systems operating within the town government to insure maintenance of sound internal control.

Your Comptroller serves as a member of the Town's Financial Management Committee, Computer Coordinating Committee, and is Chairman of the Board of the Brookline Retirement System.

In his capacity as Chairman of the Retirement Board, the Comptroller serves as a member of a review panel for indemnification of retired Police Officers and Fire Fighters for medical costs incurred as a result of work-related accidental disability.

During 1981, Proposition 2½ dominated our activities. The Town adopted an early retirement incentive, which added 19 retirees to our retirement rolls.

In July, your Comptroller, Treasurer, and Executive Secretary met with Moody's Investors' Service to discuss our bond rating. They ultimately rated the Town "Aa," an excellent rating in today's market.

Work is progressing with conversion to our new automated financial management system and implementation of the new Uniform Municipal Accounting System. Both are scheduled for completion by July 1, 1982.

The cost of living allowance for retirees was granted by the Legislature at 3% effective July 1, 1981, and is funded entirely by the Commonwealth. This is one of the few benefits of Proposition 2½ that any state-mandated program be funded by the State. Your Comptroller this year is Vice President of the Massachusetts Accountants and Auditors Association and the Norfolk County Finance Office Association.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

ALTERNATE PROPOSALS FOR B-2 AREA

The 1980 Annual Town Meeting under Article 47 voted the following:

RESOLVED: "That the Selectmen and the Brookline Redevelopment Authority report to the Fall Town Meeting alternate proposals for the Marsh B-2 parcel, including alternate uses of the site."

Nothing definite has crystallized with respect to HUD's approval of the development of the B-2 parcel since the Selectmen's last progress report to Town Meeting in November, 1980. The developer, Village Place Development Associates, secured a firm mortgage commitment in January, but we are still awaiting HUD's decision on our UDAG application which was "rolled-over" once again in December to the new fiscal quarter beginning January 1, 1981. As soon as HUD's decision is received, and it is expected imminently, the Selectmen will confer with the Redevelopment Authority and the Planning Board to determine a future course of action.

Upon motion duly made and seconded, it was, at 10:00 P.M., Unanimously voted that this Annual Town Meeting now be dissolved.

At the close of the meeting, the Checkers reported that the names of two hundred twenty (220) Town Meeting Members had been checked as in attendance at this meeting.

MOVED: To amend the revision of Article XV-A of the Town Bylaws, as proposed by the Moderator's Committee on Capital Procedures, with the amendment to Section 6 to read as follows:

Section 6. The provisions set forth in this bylaw will not interfere with or take the place of statutes or town bylaws pertaining to the duties and responsibilities of individual Town departments or organizations.

Shepard A. Spunt made the following motions to amend, duly seconded:

- I. The undersigned moves to amend the existing text in Section 1 by the substitution of "MAY" where the month "APRIL" now appears, and by substitution of "JUNE" where the month "MAY" now appears.

The purpose of this amendment is to recognize that Town Meetings - first part - Elections are held in the month of April each year. This amendment will result in allowing the newly constituted Board of Selectmen each year to appoint a Building Commission they will be compatible with and can best work with. This action will result in better management of the Town.

- II. The undersigned moves to add the following text to the end of Section 1: No member of the Building Commission shall be appointed or hold such position that has had any business relationship with the Town, or is or has been a member of any partnership, corporation, trust or joint venture, that has had a business relationship with the Town in the period of Two (2) Years prior to their appointment; during the term of their appointment; and Two (2) Years following their service on the Building Commission. For the purpose of this provision, " Business relationship" shall mean the provision of any goods or services to the Town or any agency thereof, or employment by the Town by the individual, the individual's spouse, or any children resident in the individual's household.

MOVED: To recommit the matter set forth under Article 3 to the Moderator's Committee on Capital Procedures for the purpose of redrafting Article XV-A to make the procedures conform to Chapter 7, Section 30L, of the General Laws.

At this point in the meeting, the Moderator was approached by the main Petitioner of Article #4, Irene Gillis, who did not understand the procedure of having a Town Meeting Member offer a motion under Article #4, and as two Town Meeting Members rose to support Ms. Gillis petition article, the Moderator agreed to permit her to speak on Article #4 upon completion of the business under the Third Article.

At 10:42 P.M., Town Meeting Member Harry L. Marks, Precinct 15, rose to doubt a quorum present at this meeting. A count of the members present indicated that a quorum was not present at this time, and since almost all the business of this Town Meeting had been completed (unfinished business could be inserted in the Warrant for the November 17, 1981 Special Town Meeting) the Moderator declared this Special Town Meeting to be dissolved.

ARTICLE XV-A, AS REVISED:

ARTICLE XV-A BUILDING COMMISSION: PROCEDURE FOR THE CONSTRUCTION AND ALTERATION OF TOWN BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES.

Section 1. The Selectmen shall, in May of each year, appoint five citizens to serve as a Building Commission (the "Commission"), which shall have charge and direction of the construction, repair and alteration of all town buildings and all buildings and structures placed on town land. The members of said Commission shall hold office from the 1st of June following for the term of one year and until their successors are appointed. They shall serve without compensation. The Commission shall comprise a registered architect, a registered engineer, a licensed builder, and two other citizens. The Building Commissioner shall act as Secretary of the Commission. The Selectmen shall have the power to fill any vacancy in the Commission. With respect to the selection of an architect, engineer, or other consultant (the "consultant") for building projects, the Commission shall adopt procedures by regulation which conforms to the requirements of G.L. c. 7 S30L.

Section 2. Any town board, commission, or other agency intending to seek funds for the construction, alteration or repair of a town building or structure (a "project") shall notify the Commission of its intention to do so. The town agency for whose use the building is proposed is hereinafter referred to as the Using Agency. Upon receipt of such notice from the Using Agency, the Building Commission shall decide whether or not the project shall be carried out in its charge. If a project is subject to G.L. c.7 S30L it shall be carried out by the Commission. If the Commission declines to take charge of the project, the Using Agency may, subject to the Selectmen's approval and the appropriation of funds, carry out the project in its charge without regard to the following provisions of this Article. If the Commission decides to take charge, the Using Agency may, except in the case of projects subject to G.L. c.7 S30L, appeal its decision to the Board of Selectmen, which shall make the final decision on the matter. In deciding whether or not the Commission shall take charge of the project, the Commission, and the Board of Selectmen if appealed to, shall consider the size, cost, and complexity of the project and the personnel and experience of the Using Agency; it being the intent hereof that all but those projects clearly within the competence of the Using Agency to administer, will be placed in the Commission's charge. Any project in the Commission's charge shall be carried out in the following steps, unless waived by the Selectmen as hereinafter provided:

(a) Step 1: The Using Agency shall formulate a program in writing for the facility which shall include, but shall not be limited to, the function and needs which it is designed to fulfill, expanded services, auxiliary public use, additional personnel required to maintain the facility, annual maintenance costs, expected hours of the facility's availability, and overall effect on the town. In formulating such a program, the Using Agency, after consultation with the Commission and other agencies or authorities of the town having an interest in the use of development of the facility shall prepare tentative size and cost requirements of the facility to accommodate such a program. Upon receipt of the program prepared by the Using Agency, the Commission shall decide if the town should hire a consultant for the work described in Step 2. If it decides against engaging such a consultant, it will, with the approval of the Board of Selectmen and after an appropriation has been authorized by the town meeting, proceed with the project, and without regard to the following provisions of this Section. If the Commission decides to engage such consultant, the Commission shall proceed to Step 2.

(b) Step 2: The Commission shall notify the Using Agency of its decision to engage a consultant. The Using Agency shall request that the town meeting appropriate funds for the purpose of compensating a consultant for the preparation of a feasibility study for the project, schematic design studies for the project, a cost estimate for the project (including life-cycle costs), and any special studies which the Commission and the Using Agency jointly recommend. Upon the appropriation of such funds, the consultant shall be selected in accordance with Step 3.

(c) Step 3: The Selectmen shall appoint a committee of seven members (the "Committee"), of whom three shall be designated by and be members of the Commission and three shall be designated by and be members of the Using Agency. One member shall be designated by the Selectmen, who shall serve as Chairman. The Committee shall meet promptly after it is appointed and proceed with the selection of a consultant in accordance with the procedures adopted by the Commission under Section 1 of this Article. Having made its selection in accordance with such procedures, the Committee shall report its selection to the Commission, the Using Agency, and the Selectmen; and the Selectmen shall thereupon discharge the Committee. The Commission shall then negotiate, on the town's behalf, a contract with the selected consultant, which shall be divided into three discrete phases of work: the first phase shall include those services for which the town meeting appropriated funds under Step 2; the second phase shall include services necessary or appropriate to develop the design of the project to the point where bids can be received for the construction of the project; and the third phase shall include the administration of the construction contract. The contract shall provide for termination at will by the town at the end of each of the phases and shall provide that the parties will not proceed to the second phase or third phase without further appropriations by town meeting, as described in Step 4 and Step 5. The contract shall be subject to the Selectmen's approval.

(d) Step 4: When the first phase of work has been completed and approved by the Using Agency, the Commission shall present the consultant's report to the town meeting. On the basis of the consultant's report, the Using Agency may request that the town meeting appropriate funds necessary to compensate the consultant for the second phase under the consultant's contract. Alternatively, the Commission or the Using Agency may recommend that the contract be terminated and that a new consultant be appointed to carry the work forward. In the latter case, the new consultant shall be selected in accordance with the procedures set forth in Step 3.

(e) Step 5: When the second phase of work has been completed and approved by the Using Agency, the Commission shall on behalf of the town, submit the project as designed to bid in accordance with all applicable statutes and other requirements. Upon receipt of bids, the Commission, in consultation with the Using Agency, shall decide whether they are acceptable to it. If such bids are acceptable to the Commission and the Using Agency, the Using Agency shall then request that the town meeting appropriate funds for the construction of the project and to compensate the consultant under the third phases of the consultant's contract. The Using Agency shall at the same time request the appropriation of funds for equipping and furnishing the project, providing the town meeting with a detailed estimate for such furniture and equipment, and funds for any other additional expenses to the town estimated to be incurred when the facility becomes operational.

Section 3. The contracts for construction of a project shall be executed on behalf of the town by the Commission, with the approval of the Selectmen. All expenditures made under this Article XV-A shall be made by the Commission with the approval of the Selectmen.

Section 4. The Selectmen, if they deem it to be in the best interests of the town, may waive or consolidate any or all of the steps set forth in Section 2. If the Selectmen elect to waive the appointment of the Committee, as described in Step 3, the Commission shall select the architect, engineer, or other consultant, with the approval of the Using Agency, in accordance with the procedures adopted by it under Section 1.

Upon motion of Jean Berg, duly seconded, the following amendment was adopted by a Majority vote:

VOTED: Amend Section 4 by adding to the first sentence:
 , with the exception of Step 5.
Only Town Meeting may waive its right in Step 5.
